Murder Victim—An 11-year-old West Warwick, R. I., boy was today placed under observation after being arraigned in Providence juvenile court in connection with the murder of Lucille Pelletier, 10 (above), whose body was found in the cellar of a house adjoining her home in Centerville.

Mission Accomplished

Happy over his deed, despite the fact that he got himself lost, Charles Robinson, 7, of Florence st., Somerville, clutches a loaf of bread on leaving Chelsea police headquarters under escort en route home. Charles, sent out by his mother to buy bread, tried stores in Somerville, Medford and Everett before succeeding in Chelsea.

Ruling on El Won by State

The full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court ruled in effect today that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts could institute proceedings to recover any money—possibly involving millions of dollars—paid in excess of the true cost of operation of the Boston Elevated Railway.

The indication came in a 31-page opinion upholding the action of Superior Court Judge Felix Forte in overruling the Boston Elevated's demurrer against the information of former Atty. Gen. Bushnell seeking a ruling on the manner in which Elevated trustees should keep their books, accounts and balance sheets.

Since Bushnell had filed the information under a legislative resolve of 1941, authorizing such action by the Public Utilities Commission, the high court ruled he was not a proper person to sue and suggested an amendment to substitute names of the commission members before the case was reheard on its merits in Superior court.

Unless the amendment was made, the court said, the overruling of the demurrer would be reversed and a decree sustaining the Elevated entered.

As a result of the decision, the Massachusetts House, at the request of Rep. Robert F. Murphy of Malden, today postponed action on a measure which would authorize State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley to examine and audit Boston Elevated books.

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. Barnes, informed of the opinion, declared he would reserve comment until he had read it in full.

"This case promises to be one of great importance to the riders and the cities and towns which have made up the deficits of the Elevated," Barnes said. "It will require my personal attention, direction and control."

In the lengthy opinion, the full bench said, in part:

"Whether an exoneration should be granted cannot be decided until the suit has been heard on the merits. As far as possible, a customer ought not to be charged with depreciation as a part of a service to him where the depreciation did not arise from the production of that service but had occurred years previously thereto."

Bushnell alleged the trustees charged to the account "accrued depreciation" more than $17,500,000 which represented depreciation accrued and unprovided for by the company prior to July 1, 1918. He claimed also that another item charged to this account was "losses from the sales of land and costs of experimental work done prior to 1894, amounting to $916,756.44."

The full court said: "Excepting the expenses paid for putting and maintaining the property in good operating condition, the trustees were without power to charge to the cost of service the amounts alleged in the information for the purpose of offsetting the loss which it is alleged the company had sustained with reference to capital assets retired before the lease became effective or to charge for depreciation accrued on the property prior to the time they took over the possession and management."

"The Commonwealth was not bound to make good the losses that had been sustained by the company before the trustees took control."

"It is well settled that a public officer may pay out of public funds only where the law requires or permits him to do so."

"The amount demanded by the trustees for a payment of a deficiency was not conclusive on the Commonwealth. We do not know what balance, if any, would be in the reserve fund or what deficits or the amounts of them the Commonwealth would have been required to pay if the trustees had not made the charges in question to cost of service.

"Neither would it have any right to any profits that might accrue from the operation of its property by the trustees. The profits would belong to the Commonwealth."

"Expenditures by the company for the unauthorized purposes would constitute a breach of trust, and proceedings brought to make good the loss caused by the breach are not barred by the statute (of limitations) after the Commonwealth knew or ought to have known of the breach."

Italy Catholic Lead Gains; King Fate in Doubt

ROME, June 4 (INS)—The Catholic Christian Democrat party pulled farther ahead in Italy today in the vote for a constituent assembly as the future of King Humbert II appeared dependent on late returns in the monarchist referendum.

Mounting nation-wide totals indicated a deep north-south cleavage on the monarchist issue, with advocates for retention of the House of Savoy centered in the south. There were surprising "islands" of monarchist loyalty in northern and central Italy, too.

Rome, respected as the cradle of Catholicism, gave the Christian Democrats an overwhelming majority. On the basis of practically complete results from the capital, Viterbo, Latina and Frosinone—all in central Italy—the party was well ahead.

Breakdown of these returns showed the Christian Democrats with 10 posts in the constituent assembly, as against five each for the Republicans and Communists; Socialists, four; "common man" group three; the monarchist coalitions—"liberty bloc" and the Orlandi-Nitti Croce-Economi faction, and the Republican coalition group, two each.

N. Y. Tube Strikers To Boycott Probers

NEW YORK, June 4 (INS)—Leaders of the five-day-old Hudson & Manhattan tube strike declared today they would boycott Thursday's opening session of an investigation of the strike by a factfinding board appointed by President Truman.

The electric railroad's 115,000 regular commuters scrambled again aboard buses and Pennsylvania railroad trains that took them to picketed Hudson river ferries.

ROXBURY VETERAN RE-ENLISTS—S. Sgt. H. J. Wiloyto (right) welcomes Edward C. Dando, 31, of Vernon st., Roxbury, back into the Army. Dando, married and the father of two children, is a former major of E Co., 101st Inf., 26th Div. He re-enlisted into the Regular Army as a master sergeant. Dando holds the Bronze Star, four battle stars, several ETO ribbons and the combat Infantryman's 2—Boston American, June 4 Dodge.

Bevin Warns Reds on Peace

LONDON, June 4 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin addressed a warning appeal to Russia today that "if you value peace above all, do not miss it. It may never come again."

The blunt diplomat, opening a foreign policy debate in the House of Commons, declared permanent peace in Europe can be guaranteed "only if Russia enters freely into the European settlement."

He appealed to the United States to remain undaunted by the Russian rejection of Secretary of State Byrnes' proposal for a 25-year treaty to keep Germany and Japan disarmed, saying:

"The rest of us in Europe, at least, not only welcome this proposal but look upon it as giving the greatest possible hope for the removal of misunderstanding and the creation of confidence. It was a matter of profound regret to witness the way it was received by the Soviet representatives" at the recent conference of leading foreign ministers at Paris.

"If I can make one great appeal to the United States," he said, "it is this: Do not be daunted by the first refusal, due, in my view, to unjustified suspicion."

Bevin expressed regret that "all through, Russian speeches and writings" runs the "idea that the Russian methods alone represent democracy and that certain other systems are either fascist or crypto-fascist."

"This is one of the greatest obstacles to peace," Bevin declared in a speech opening a full-dress debate on foreign affairs.

The United States' new ambassador to Britain, W. Averell Harriman, sat in the gallery.

Bevin referred to his previous disclosure he had offered to recommend extension of the 20-year Anglo-Russian friendship treaty to 50 years and said:

"I regret that this was not taken more seriously at the time. But I am confident it will come. While I am foreign secretary, notwithstanding the rebuff, I shall still pursue it."

Bevin said Russian diplomats appeared to have "the idea that the security of Russia can only be maintained when every country in the world adopts the Soviet system."

"This is one of their greatest handicaps and a great obstacle to peace," he said.

"I can speak for the workers of Great Britain and the British Commonwealth when I say we do not believe the Soviet system would represent the interest of the workers as this system of Democratic Parliament of ours."

Indictments Expected in Newton Rule

Secret indictments were expected to be returned today or tomorrow by the Middlesex Grand Jury following a long investigation of alleged irregularities in the conduct of affairs in the city of Newton.

A State Police probe and subsequent presentation of testimony to the Grand Jury was prompted by a committee of five prominent Newton citizens, who complained to Dist. Atty George E. Thompson of alleged irregularities.

The offenses of which the committee of five complained were understood to be use of city equipment and material for private construction jobs, not only in the city of Newton but in surrounding communities and as far away as Cape Cod.

This was alleged to include the construction of sidewalks and driveways for private citizens, city equipment and materials being used.

Another allegation was that heavy motor equipment owned by private firms had been overhauled, repaired and painted with city materials on city premises at city expense.

One of the outside construction jobs reported by the committee of five was the building of a $19,000 parking lot in Waltham for a private concern.

A picture in a national construction trade magazine displayed the nearly completed Waltham project and also showed a truck, clearly marked "City of Newton," at work on the scene.

Former Asst. Dist. Atty. Hugh S. Boyd, who appeared before the grand jury during its investigation of the alleged irregularities, was one of the leaders in bringing about the probe.

"I guess I started the ball rolling on this thing," he said today, "because it was a new sort of business for the city and citizens of Newton. We were confronted with an abnormal situation that had never existed in the city before."

"Official action in the matter came too late for it to have any effect on the election. It was only eight days before the election that the board of aldermen was confronted with a situation on which it had to act."

City records show a special meeting of the board of aldermen was held Oct. 29 to consider snow removal.

The "star chamber" session, with press and public excluded, lasted four hours and the board voted a special appropriation of $27,193 to pay contractors for snow removal of the previous winter, an unpaid bill for which it was thought appropriation had been made.

Committee of five members alleged that after this special meeting it was learned hundreds of thousands of dollars in additional unpaid bills remained, although it had been believed appropriation had been made for them.

EARLY CUSTOMERS GET BREAD AT WEST END CHAIN STORE Supply Goes in Eight Minutes After Many Waited Store's Opening

International News Photos by Bill Jones

Half of N. E. Bakeries Due to Close by June 16

Predictions that nearly one-half of the bakeries of New England will be forced to close by June 16, and that even intervention by the U. S. Department of Agriculture will not assure consumers here of a normal bread supply within a month, were made by responsible sources today as bread lines continued.

Walter Sands, president of the New England Flour Distributors, and Edward Savage, president of the Cambridge flour jobbing company bearing his name, painted the gloomy picture.

Robert E. Sullivan, secretary of the New England Bakeries Ass'n, estimated that area flour supply, already exhausted at some points, can last "only two or three weeks."

Even hospitals are beginning to feel the pinch, it was disclosed. Savage said he had received a telephone call from the Veterans Hospital, West Roxbury, asking for flour, but he could not supply it.

A sharp increase, in some cases as high as 25 per cent, was shown in sandwich consumption today at cafeterias in 34 high and intermediary and 17 elementary schools of Boston. It was apparent students were not getting sandwich bread at home but were getting their sandwiches at school, along with hot soups and other foods.

Miss Eleanor Upham, director of school lunches, said all returns for today were not in yet but that it was evident school cafeterias were doing a record business. She added the bakery with whom the HALF A LOAF—Customers of this West End bakery were willing to accept half a loaf in the bread shortage. Here Mrs. Phyllis Freni makes a half-loaf purchase from Clerk Marion Dullahan.

Lad, 7, Trudges 6 Mi. For Bread

Seven-year-old Charles Robinson of Florence st., Somerville, set out today on a mission as vital to him as the Message to Garcia—his mother asked him to buy a loaf of bread—and he wound up, lost, in Chelsea sq.

Found by a policeman, the lad may have been hazy as to his whereabouts but was not the least doubtful why he was there. He still wanted that bread.

The friendly patrolman managed to obtain one for him, then took him to headquarters to arrange a ride home. Police learned he had wandered six miles, through Medford and Everett, in search of the elusive loaf.

Even in the protected confines of the station, he refused to let his prize out of his arms, and clutched it triumphantly as he rode home in a cruiser.

2 Brothers Hurt in Blast Of Manhole

Two brothers were injured today when a manhole exploded beneath a light truck at the busy intersection of Nashua and Causeway sts., at North Station.

Windows were shattered and throngs of passers fled the blast, many of them spared injury because the big manhole cover was kept from soaring sky high by hitting the vehicle.

Frank Crisafulli, 30, of Frankfort st., East Boston, and his brother, Justin, 27, were directly over the manhole when it exploded. Their machine was lifted off the ground by the blast.

Justin was knocked unconscious and was pulled from the wrecked truck by Frank. Both were taken to City Hospital in an ambulance that happened to be passing. They were treated for multiple injuries.

Concussion jarred scores of persons at the intersection, but Patrolman Charles Lenhart averted a panic.

Fire engines and 15 traffic officers soon were at the scene to rope off a section of the street. A hole 12 feet wide was torn up.

Attack Victims Suffer Relapses

Miss Genevieve Stromme, 24, of Walcott st., Malden, weakened by two days of trying to help Revere police find the man who battered her and Mrs. Lillian Spizio, 30, Porter st., Malden, in the Suffolk Downs parking lot Sunday night, collapsed this morning and was removed for the second time to Revere General Hospital.

Mrs. Spizio's plight was even more tragic. Physicians, who said the man she had fought off apparently had kicked her on the face, removed her left eye. Her name was still on the danger list as the result of severe head injuries, but she had regained the power of speech.

The woman accepted the offer of a husky man in Army uniform to drive them home from an Orr sq., Revere, cafe.

He drove to the race track instead and pressed his advances on Mrs. Spizio. As she struggled with him she gasped to Miss Stromme, "For God's sake, run for help! This man is crazy."

Miss Stromme fought her way out of the car and stopped a motorist who returned to the parking lot with her. The car was gone. Police found Mrs. Spizio badly injured, wandering dazedly around the premises several hours later.

Maritime Union In Compromise 42-Hour Offer

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—A hint of new union concessions toward settlement of the threatened maritime strike on June 15 came today from President Joseph Curran

MARRIED—Belita, 22-year-old skating actress, reveals her marriage to Joel McGinnis, 23, screen actor. Born in England, her real name was Gladys Lynne Jepson-Turner.

of the CIO's National Maritime Union.

As the Navy started mobilizing to run the merchant fleet if necessary, Curran told reporters a compromise 42-hour week proposal "is our latest but not our last offer."

He did not elaborate, but another spokesman for the union gave this follow-up:

"We're prepared to avert a strike, we don't want a strike. We're willing to compromise and sign a satisfactory agreement. The point is what is satisfactory."

Originally the union asked a 40-hour week at sea instead of the present 56 hours, demanding each ship carry 10 relief workers. Employers said this would be an "insurmountable burden" making it impossible for American ships to compete with foreign lines. The new offer cuts the relief crew to eight, but still leaves a wide gap between union and employer positions.

Federal conciliators are pushing for settlement of the NMU's demands, hoping this would set a pattern for the six other unions wrapped up in the committee for maritime unity (CMU).

The conference took its first peek into demands of West Coast seamen today behind closed doors, with no results immediately reported. Meanwhile the government took preparatory steps to run the nation's 3100 merchant ships if the mid-June deadline goes by without settlement.

No ex-Navy man will be called to active duty just now — but volunteers will stand ready to be called if the strike goes on.

One government official, who asked not to be identified, said a logical next step would be for the Navy to halt demobilization of all sailors who have experience valuable in sailing merchant ships.

Navy Reservists Volunteer for Maritime Duty

R. Adm. Morton L. Deyo, commandant of the First Naval District, consulted staff members today on plans to set up machinery for recruiting reservists for possible duty on merchant ships in case the maritime strike occurs June 15.

Twelve reserve officers, who previously had maritime service experience, volunteered this morning, Adm. Deyo disclosed. Pending directives from Washington, they were asked to leave their names and await further information.

The Navy Department is expected to order a hasty survey of officers and enlisted men still under Navy jurisdiction although civilians, and some are due to receive orders to stand by in event of a strike.

It was pointed out that New England men who left service as officers were not discharged but placed on the inactive duty list, available for recall. Enlisted men who joined the active voluntary reserve when discharged are also eligible for recall to duty.

A Navy spokesman said other enlisted men, who were discharged from the service, could not be recalled to duty unless they volunteered.

If the Navy is ordered to man merchant ships during a walkout of National Maritime Union members, it was believed personnel on duty at shore stations in New England would be among the first ordered aboard struck ships.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 4 (INS)—Mrs. Marvin Peterson reported her son David, 6, had been waylaid and robbed of 25 cents by two other boys about his own age. David was on an errand to the bakery, she said.

It was the second report police have received recently of "baby bandits."

Science Must Save World, Shapley Says

Prof. Harlow Shapley, famed Harvard scientist and astronomer, today told 1000 members of Associated Harvard Clubs further strides in science are needed to save the world and that Harvard is planning the greatest program of applied physical science in the world.

Dr. Shapley spoke at the Harvard Club where Associated Clubs are meeting for the first time since before the war. The meeting is in conjunction with Harvard Week and was presided over by President James B. Conant.

"We are planning a building one-half mile long just to study the nucleus of the atom," Prof. Shapley said.

"We must not stop. Russia is making scientific study her leading enterprise. Greater strides in science means the saving of the world."

"Right now we are sending our scientists into northern Canada for studies which will give us in the future the greatest natural shield in history. I suppose Russia can do the same thing in its northern part."

"The Harvard observatory here and another laboratory in Colorado also have a mighty program of study outlined for the future. It is imperative we lead the whole world in science and scientific discoveries."

Teacher Loses In Gould Suit

The Supreme Judicial Court today denied the petition of Paul B. Crudden, Boston school teacher and ex-Navy officer, to compel School Supt. Arthur L. Gould to name new headmasters from a rated list on which Crudden's name was third.

Crudden alleged Gould omitted to name headmasters from the list because the "right people" were not on it.

The court, in an opinion written by Justice James J. Ronan, said: "The respondent cannot be compelled to recommend any of the first three names on a list that has never been approved by the board of superintendents, the respondent or the school committee."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, by King Features Syndicate

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE SO BUSY with strikers and speeches that they are not yet stirred by the arrangements that are being made in the loan and trade agreements affecting their standard of living. As a matter of fact, so much is actually being arranged in the economic field that we know nothing about, that some day we shall wake up to discover the consequences of our lack of knowledge and vigilance.

Stated simply, this is the situation that faces us:

The cost of production in the United States is based upon the wage scale; the American wage scale is so high that our products are practically non-competitive in world markets.

The practical question is whether $1 an hour goods can compete with 40 cents an hour goods; whether there is enough advantage in superior know-how and efficiency to make up the difference; whether the socialized nations will not use our money, the credits we extend to them, to fight us in world markets.

YET, IT IS the policy of this administration to reduce tariffs substantially, our own and everybody else's. As the United States is the principal world market into which every country seeks to pour not only surplus, but as much goods as possible, it is doubtful whether it matters much if other countries reduce their tariffs; but it will definitely affect our standard of living and our wage scale ultimately, if our tariffs are so reduced that Czechoslovakia can, for instance, send shoes to our land in a torrent of cheapness.

To offset reduction of tariffs, we demand that all preferences be eliminated, but how is that possible when so many countries in Europe are tied into the Soviet economy?

THREE POINTS in the State Department's "proposals for expansion of world trade and employment" require deep study:

"That quotas and embargoes be limited to a few really necessary cases and that they be administered without discrimination."

"That export subsidies be confined to exceptional cases, under general rules."

"That governments conducting foreign trade by their own agencies agree to give free treatment to the commerce of all friendly countries and to make their purchases and sales on purely economic grounds."

What are exceptional cases? With so much of the world socialized, with governments engaging in every type of production and commerce, at what point does the movement of goods cease to be business and become politics? It is an amazing picture that Soviet Russia, as a political body, is violently anti-Peron in the Argentine, but as a business organization, it is setting up trade arrangements which strengthen Peron.

THE FRENCH LOAN is a case in point. From a business standpoint, it is impossible to justify the loan. If a private banker accepted the kind of security the treasury of the United States has accepted from France, no bank examiner would pass the bank as sound. Obviously, the loan is political. It is designed to tie France into the Anglo-American alliance which exists as a political, economic and military reality.

France is willing to accept the flirtation and its consequences. It is business and politics. We shall have to take goods in payment for that loan. Of course, we shall take from France fancy perfumes, wines, dresses, furs, and all sorts of luxuries. But shall we take steel from Great Britain, machinery from the Skoda works, chemicals, in due course, from Germany?

The real difficulty that we face is that if we lend money we must take goods. If we sell goods, we must buy something.

COUNTESS TOLSTOY
Asks Aid for Anti-Communists

Countess Tolstoy In Plea for Anti-Red Exiles

Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, youngest daughter of Leo Tolstoy, arrived here today to plead for aid for displaced Russians, suffering because they are enemies of "another form of dictatorship—Communism."

"American soldiers who were in Germany and Austria at the time of forced repatriations could tell you facts," she said, "when scores of people committed suicide, choosing death rather than repatriation to a homeland where terror and brutal force reign."

Organizing a Boston chapter of the Tolstoy Foundation, Inc., the Countess explained at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Constantin Perzof in Lincoln that other Russian relief agencies here are giving no help to the thousands of anti-communist ex-patriates and prisoners of war now in Germany.

Countess Tolstoy said she felt she was doing what her father would want her to do. She was persuaded, as her father was, that humanity, if not awakened in time, would face mortal danger. "Money contributed to the Tolstoy foundation, a purely humanitarian organization, will make it possible for these people to live and to realize their greatest dream—to come to America to live and work at anything they can find."

Locker Key Clue In Taxicab Slaying

A brass locker key, believed the first tangible clue in the murder of Frank T. Morrissey, 35, taxicab driver, was picked up today at the spot in Auburn st., Medford, where the victim's body was found.

While police were cutting the deep grass, in search for the murder gun or other clues, two boys spotted a shiny object, which proved to be an untarnished key, apparently only recently dropped.

Police believe the key may have fallen from the killer's pocket as he was dragging the slain cab driver to the grass plot. In hopes some factory or business concern which provides lockers for employees may be able to identify the key, police gave out the following description:

Brass locker key, manufactured by Master Lock Co., Milwaukee, bearing manufacturer's number, W1280. Stenciled in large figures at the top is the number F329.

Medford police turned the key over to state detectives, who said the person who last held it may have been Morrissey's slayer.

The key was found by Matthew J. Conway, 19, of Whitney rd., and Robert A. Ward, 16, of Touro ave., both Medford.

Further search of the area, including the banks of the nearby Mystic river, failed to uncover the murder gun.

Shortly before the key was discovered, Dist. Atty. George E. Thompson of Middlesex County appealed for help from the public in the murder investigation.

"Any person who saw—or thinks he saw—Morrissey's Kenmore cab between 2 a. m. and 3:15 a. m. Sunday is urged to tell us," Thompson said.

Fellow workers revealed they have started a city-wide fund for the victim's wife and three children. Taxicab drivers reported more than $190 was raised in the first few hours.

State Police Lt. Joseph Crescio, in charge of the investigation, revealed today that the taxicab meter study may reveal some tell-tale evidence.

He disclosed that when police found the death taxi at about 11 a. m. Sunday in Park st., Cambridge, the meter was still clicking and registered $32.40.

Morrissey's waybill showed a total of 26 jobs for $18.05, which left a difference of $14.55 from the amount the meter had clocked when the taxicab was found.

In a move to stimulate public co-operation in the murder hunt, Charles Gamarrick, president of the Kenmore Taxi Co., Morrissey's employers, offered a $500 reward for capture of the slayer.

Hub Wife Flies to Dying Mother in Eire

Mrs. Nellie Hutchinson, 43, of Kenton rd., Jamaica Plain, took off from Bedford airport for Ireland today on a sad mission to see her dying 83-year-old mother. It is the first flight she has ever made.

The Jamaica Plain woman, mother of six children, decided on the flight when word came that her mother, Mrs. Johanna Holden of Shannon, had broken her hip and had not long to live.

Mrs. Hutchinson will celebrate her 19th wedding anniversary at the Galway home of the parents of her husband, Michael, a Navy Yard worker.

Sanity Test for R. I. Boy Held for Girl's Murder

PROVIDENCE, June 4—An 11-year-old West Warwick boy was taken to juvenile court today in connection with the bludgeoning slaying of Lucille Pelletier, 10, and was ordered placed under observation at Chapin Hospital. The boy was questioned by State troopers and West Warwick police for 12 hours yesterday after the girl's body had been found in the cellar of a garage adjoining her home in Centerville.

To Reich

Judge Francis J. McCabe, after a closed session of the juvenile court, announced the boy had been turned over to the hospital and that Dr. Hugh B. Kiene, psychiatrist, had been appointed to make a study and report his findings to the court.

The body of the girl, one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Elphege Pelletier, was found, fully clothed, yesterday morning by her father, when he started a search after learning she had not attended a neighborhood party Sunday evening nor slept in her bed.

She had last been seen alive at about 7:30 p. m. Sunday and Dr. Fernand J. Hermond, medical examiner, estimated she had been dead 12 hours when the body was found.

He said death was due to hemorrhage and shock after a compound fracture of the skull and injuries to the back and body. The skull apparently had been fractured by blows, he said.

The girl's body was found face downward on the cellar floor by her father, just after he had discovered her broken necklace on the garage floor.

UN Wants Spain Aid for A-Rule

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—The United Nations sub-committee investigating Spain declared today exclusion of Spain from the UN rendered "impossible a really effective system" of international control of atomic energy.

It recommended if a freely elected Spanish government succeeded Generalissimo Franco's regime, its application for UN membership should be considered favorably.

E. Boston Aged Pair Hurt in Ladder Fall

Richard Gill, 74, and his wife, Mary, 75, were injured today when they fell from a ladder on which they were painting their home in St. Andrews rd., East Boston. They are parents of Richard Gill, former "B. C. track star, now serving with the Army Air Corps overseas.

The couple were taken to City Hospital where Gill was treated for cuts on the head and his wife for a scalp laceration and an arm injury.

Boat Blast Burns Victor Moore, Son

GREENPORT, N. Y., June 4 (INS)—Victor Moore, 60, the Broadway comedian, and his son, Roger Emmett, 27, were burned today when one of the motors blew up in Moore's 38-foot cabin cruiser at the Texaco dock at Greenport.

The blast enveloped the craft in a sheet of flame and blew the pair onto the dock. Moore escaped with singed hair and scalp.

His son suffered second-degree burns of the hands, face and legs. They were removed to East Long Island Hospital.

decision eventually would lead to the adventure on which she embarked today, life in Germany as an American officer's wife.

Her husband is Maj. Robert E. Lanigan, aide to Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, commander of U. S. forces in Europe. With her two children, Linda, 4, and Robert, Jr., 2, Mrs. Lanigan boarded a plane for New York this noon.

They will sail Saturday for Europe to make their home in Frankfurt. Because Maj. Lanigan is a regular Army officer, they anticipate a long stay and have shipped their household effects.

Daughter of Mrs. E. L. Hayman of Adams st., Dorchester, Mrs. Lanigan was the first Boston girl to be granted a commission in the Army Nurse Corps when the military services were expanded in 1940. She is a graduate of Dorchester High for Girls and the Quincy City Hospital Nursing School.

Maj. Lanigan, then a cadet, was a measles patient at West Point when the couple met. They were married in Dorchester June 28, 1941, the month her husband graduated with honors.

Since then he has served with the Ninth Armored Division and saw action in Europe with the 14th Armored Division.

16-Yr.-Old Boy Homemaker Freed in Slaying of Father

MURRAY, Ky., June 4 (AP)—A murder charge against Leonard Manning, 16, in connection with the fatal shooting of his father, Gervis Manning, last April 10, was dismissed by Juvenile Judge Pink Curd yesterday.

The youth Judge Curd said, testified he killed his father when the latter came to remove furnishings from the home the boy had maintained for two sisters and a younger brother after their parents left. Judge Curd sustained the lad's plea "he was protecting his little brother and sisters and was in justifiable fear of his life."

He quoted the youth as saying he warned his father not to come into the house, but that the elder Manning continued to advance, with his hand in a pocket. When his father refused to halt, the boy related, he grabbed a 12-gauge shotgun and fired.

Judge Curd said the mother, living apart from her husband and working in Detroit at the time of the shooting, since has returned to make a home for the children.

5 States Hold Primaries, CIO-PAC Figures in Three

By the Associated Press
Five more states marked primary ballots today, as Iowa tallied up the heavy majority which won Gov. Robert D. Blue the Republican renomination for governor.

Alabama, California, New Jersey and New Mexico took their turns at selecting candidates for the November elections, with CIO-PAC activity figuring in three of the state campaigns.

Advance indications pointed to no specially heavy total vote in today's elections, with the pattern in most contests generally following that of an off year. Gubernatorial or congressional nominations, or both, are at stake in today's balloting.

In Iowa, Blue turned back the bid of George Olmsted, wartime brigadier general, to replace him as the GOP standard bearer for governor.

State by state, here is the set-up today:
ALABAMA—It is Lt. Gov. Handy Ellis vs. James E. Folsom, insurance man, in a run-off contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, equivalent to election, CIO-PAC has backed Folsom, and Ellis made its intervention in the campaign his principal issue.

CALIFORNIA—The Democratic U. S. Senate contest between Rep. Ellis Patterson, Los Angeles, and Will Rogers, Jr., monopolizes the spotlight. Both candidates for the nomination have the approval of the state CIO-PAC.

NEW JERSEY—The headliner is a ding-dong battle for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, with former Gov. Harold G. Hoffman opposing Alfred E. Driscoll, Hoffman, just out of uniform, has made a point of telling the voters Driscoll spent the war in civilian life. In the outstanding congressional contest, the CIO-PAC is supporting Walter A. Schaefer, Nutley insurance man, who is seeking to unseat Rep. Fred A. Hartley, Kearney Republican who has had nine consecutive terms in the House.

NEW MEXICO—Sen. Chavez, out for the Democratic renomination to return to the seat he has occupied since 1935, went to the polls with CIO-PAC endorsement. But the same held true for his opponent, Gov. John J. Dempsey, CIO-PAC duplicated by giving its blessings to William J. Barker and Thomas J. Mabry—two of six in the field for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

SOUTH DAKOTA—Gov. M. Q. Sharpe makes his bid for a third Republican nomination to be the state's chief executive. He has two opponents. The Democratic gubernatorial nomination scramble likewise has three entries.

Ford Tells Plan to Build $50,000,000 Research Plant

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT, June 4 (AP)—Plans for the construction of a new research and engineering center to cost an estimated $50,000,000 were announced today by Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co.

Ford said the center, to be located on a 500-acre tract in nearby Dearborn, will consist of a primary group of eight buildings, clustered around an artificial lake 800 feet long and 350 feet wide. The buildings will be of modern design featuring steel and concrete construction and limestone facing.

Behind this large expenditure," he said, "is our determination to use every aid which science and research can give us in our job. That job, as we see it, is to make more and better motor cars at prices that more and more people can afford."

Describing the project at a news conference as "one of the largest developments of its kind in industry," Ford said it will take eight years to complete. He added:

"The center will be dedicated to my grandfather, Henry Ford (founder of the Ford Motor Co.), who 50 years ago today drove the first Ford car through downtown Detroit, and to the memory of my father, Edsel B. Ford."

N. Y. Police Graft Expose Spurs O'Dwyer Probe

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—The police department undertook today a sweeping investigation of charges members of the department were accepting huge bribes from bookmakers in the "most cynical grafting spree in New York history."

The probe followed an order by Mayor O'Dwyer that the department "clean its own house" after New York Daily News Columnist Ed Sullivan charged in his column yesterday detectives were receiving payments from bookmakers ranging from $1700 per bookmaker phone per month to $3000 per month.

Police Com. Arthur W. Walander he had "directed the chief inspector and the commanding officer of the commissioner's confidential squad to make a city-wide inquiry of allegations of graft and corruption involving bookmakers and to uncover any other form of gambling."

Sullivan charged "token" arrests were made as a cover-up. Sullivan also charged "detectives brag they 'can't be touched' and their superiors associate openly with mobsters."

R. I. Man Tells Of Red Abuses

NEW YORK, June 4 (INS)—Jan Czechel, 26, a native of Providence, R. I., was back in America today with memories of 12 arrests and brutality at the hands of Russian police after trying seven years to leave Soviet-controlled territory.

Czechel, just arrived from Odessa on the Liberty ship Enos A. Mills, said his parents, John and Constance Czechel, and their three daughters are still in Poland, trying to get to the U. S. His parents took him to Poland in 1925. Jan, who fought with the Polish resistance movement against the Nazis, said the Russians never questioned his U. S. citizenship but long denied him an exit visa despite official U. S. representations.

Dr. Fosdick Better Following Operation

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, 68, pastor emeritus of Riverside Church, who underwent a gall bladder operation yesterday at Presbyterian Hospital, was reported today to be "doing very well."

Dr. Fosdick retired from Riverside Church May 26.

Jim Crow Habit Stronger 'n' Law

ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 4 (AP)—Habit proved stronger today than Supreme Court decisions.

"Jim Crow" signs were gone, but most Negro passengers continued to take rear seats on buses of the A. B. & W. line between Alexandria and Washington.

A company spokesman said cards directing Negro passengers to take seats at the rear of buses were removed last night after the Supreme Court ruled against segregation on interstate buses.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., June 4 (AP)—A Chamber of Commerce spokesman reported today refusal of the Federation of Musicians to segregate 50 Negro members on buses, caused cancellation of a trip through the city and a beach outing today.

British to Socialize Gas, Industry

LONDON, June 4 (AP)—Fuel Minister Emanuel Shinwell said today the government intends to take over the gas industry "lock stock and barrel."

Nationalization of the fuel and power industry—coal, coke, gas and electricity—was one of the Labor Party's campaign objectives last summer.

Britain Doubts Crisis in Trieste

LONDON, June 4 (AP)—The foreign office said today the British government had no reports from the Trieste area of Italy that supported a London Daily Mail dispatch saying Yugoslavia had decreed a general mobilization. The spokesman said some increase in tension was expected, but no cause for concern appeared.

The Mail's Rome correspondent asserted Belgrade newspapers published an announcement of general mobilization in Yugoslavia.

'Cowgirl' Audrey Off for Texas

All dolled up in her cowgirl spangles and humming "Deep in the Heart of Texas" for her theme song, 15-year-old Audrey Mangan of Broadway, Cambridge, was off today for the big roundup and barbecue of the Sidewalk Cattle-men's Ass'n in Madisonville, Texas.

The Cambridge miss, darling of the Texas ranchers and named honorary sheriff of Madisonville, was scheduled to leave aboard an airliner from Logan Airport during the afternoon.

She caught the cattle raisers' fancy five years ago when she wrote a letter, asking assistance in obtaining cowboy boots. Not only was she presented a complete outfit, but was invited to attend the Madisonville jamboree.

Audrey made such a hit Dr. Jesse B. Heath, president of the association, invited her to attend this year's fete.

BEVERLY HOUSING STARTED

BEVERLY, June 4 Workmen were assembling several prefabricated houses for veterans here today, first of 72 to be erected. All are expected to be occupied by Sept. 1.

To you who are waiting for telephone service

but

IN the past six months, we have installed more than 194,000 telephones in New England. We are now building and installing the new central office equipment and outside plant which are needed before we can connect up telephones for the rest of the people on our waiting list.

IN GENERAL, THIS IS WHAT IS NEEDED:

1 Switchboard and dial equipment. Additional switchboard or dial equipment is needed in most of the 600 Central Offices. Each job is individually designed and built by Western Electric Company, and installed by our men who must make hundreds of individual wire connections by hand. The equipment is arriving, and in many communities the work of installation is now going on.

2 New land and buildings. In 20 communities, new buildings or additions to present buildings are urgently needed at the present time. In the near future, substantial additions will be made in about 200 places, and minor additions in many more. This program, too, is under way, and will be continued till the needs of every community are filled.

3 Poles, wires, cables. For long distance lines alone, we are installing this year about 1400 circuit miles of wire and 300 miles of cable. Additional poles, wires, cable are also needed for local service.

Cardinal Spellman Warns U. S. of Peril

Special to the Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, June 4—Communists are imposing a "profane pattern of serfdom on America," Francis Cardinal Spellman charged today. In an article in the July issue of the American Magazine, he expressed fear that subversive elements will conquer the country unless prompt action is taken to check their "poison propaganda through the antitoxin of truth and patriotism."

In his first article since becoming a Prince of the Roman Catholic Church, the Cardinal and close friend of Pope Pius XII says "there is no middle course between Democracy and Communism" because "Communism's concept is seeded in materialism and rooted in tyranny."

"Wherever Communism appears, slavery reappears," he writes on the basis of first hand observations during 140,000 miles of global wartime travel.

"Communists have inflicted their sinister influence and domination on every small, helpless nation which they 'liberated' or conquered, and unless we awaken and unite our common interests and common efforts to save our common country, we too shall be conquered."

"Today, Communists, suppressing and distorting truth, are intimidating men and inflicting despotism on America, trying to convert Americans to Communism."

"In government, in industry, in labor unions, in our political and educational systems, even in the armed services of our country, Communists and Communist sympathizers hold responsible positions, while members of their party use the press, the radio, and the films to influence and divide us against ourselves."

"They try to seduce us into believing that Americans can be Communists, but a true American can be either a Communist or a Communist condoner, and we must realize that the first loyalty of every American is vigilantly to weed out and contract Communism and convert American Communists to Americanism."

In Cardinal Spellman's opinion there is little difference between a land being overrun by alien armies and conquered by force or being devitalized by alien organizations, propaganda, and revolution inspired within.

"Today, those very evils our boys fought against have been planted in the vitals of America by Communists," he insists. "We shall be guilty of our sons' betrayal and America's destruction if we do not stop the lust-born hate of Communist bigotry and greed that are sweeping like scythes across our nation's face."

33 Billion Axis War Damage

Chief Engineer Horatio Bond told the 50th anniversary meeting of the National Fire Protection Ass'n here today thirty-three billion dollars of war destruction was suffered by cities in Germany and Japan, principally due to fire bombing.

He said that translated to the United States it would mean fifty per cent destruction of 121 principal cities, including Boston, New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago. Bond made an official survey of bomb damage in Germany.

U. S. Gives Back Azores Airport

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—The United States has returned to Portugal its strategic wartime airport in the Azores, but is retaining transit use for 18 months, it was announced today by Secretary Byrnes.

His statement said that the 18 months' use provision was made because of the maintenance of lines of communications with the American occupation forces in Germany and Japan.

Save Lobsterman Off Baker Light

J. R. Frost, Marblehead lobsterman, was rescued by a picket boat from the Coast Guard's air base at Salem today after his craft developed engine trouble off the Baker Island light. Frost attracted the light keeper's attention by flashing distress signals.

A search by air-sea rescue planes from Salem, Quonset, R. I. and New York for the pleasure schooner Hollandia, unreported since it left New York May 26 was called off when Henry Baay of Marblehead, the owner, received a telegram advising him the vessel had put into Long Island due to heavy weather.

A four-man crew of Floridians was bringing the schooner from Palm Beach to Marblehead.

Truman Signs Bill For School Lunches

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—President Truman signed the national school lunch act today with the comment it provides the basis "for strengthening the nation through better nutrition." He added that "despite our capacity to produce food, we have often failed to distribute as well as we should."

The legislation authorizes federal appropriations, in amounts to be determined each year, to finance the lunches in co-operation with state and local governments.

This young man is in the banking business

That's right. His parents have just opened a savings account for him in a Mutual Savings Bank. As a depositor, he is now entitled to his share of the bank's earnings after expenses and legal reserves have been met. For Mutual Savings Banks have no stockholders, and they pay no profits to anyone except their own depositors. That's what "Mutual" means.

A Mutual Savings Bank is truly a people's bank. When the first Mutual was founded in Massachusetts more than a century ago, there was no banking service available for anybody but businessmen and wealthy individuals.

For generations Mutual Savings Banks have been serving people of moderate means . . . helping them to save money and to buy homes of their own. Their deposits are fully insured under State laws. They specialize in low-cost, flexible mortgage service, "tailored to fit" individual needs.

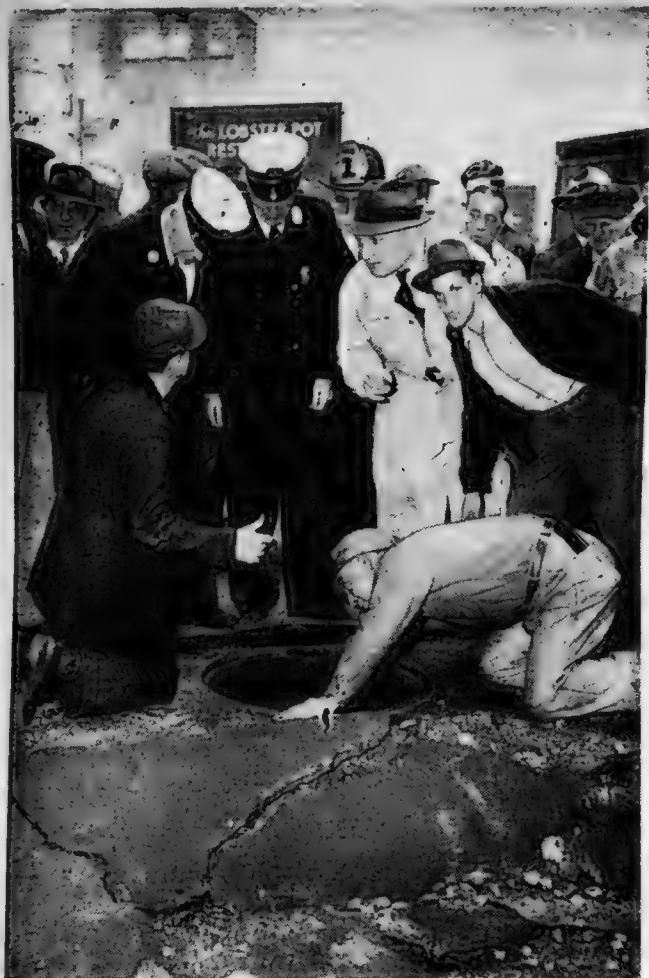

You'll find your local Mutual Savings Bank a friendly place to do business, because it's your bank. Why not call in today and get acquainted?

BUREAUCRACY HANGS ON

IT STILL CONTINUES to be a deep mystery to the American people that, although the war has been over nearly a year, each passing month of the postwar period has seen a substantial INCREASE in the number of civilian employees hired by the Federal government.

The joint committee of Congress on non-essential Federal expenditures, of which Sen. Byrd of Virginia is chairman, has been patiently but persistently calling national attention to this amazing situation in its periodic reports.

The latest report of the committee, for the month of April in the current year, discloses that there has been no CHANGE in the situation—except for the worse.

In April, the various agencies and departments of the Federal government—including the War and Navy Departments—increased their payrolls by nearly FORTY THOUSAND names, for employment within the continental limits of the United States.

EVEN THOUGH the War and Navy Departments reduced their civilian payrolls substantially, their economies were more than offset by EXPANDING employment in the other agencies—the net ADDITIONAL burden on the American taxpayers imposed in April being nearly SIXTEEN THOUSAND employees.

The same situation prevails in Federal civilian employment outside the United States, with the Army and Navy steadily reducing their civilian payrolls and with all other agencies systematically increasing them.

Why should it take MORE people to do the work of the Federal government in peacetime than at the time of peak employment during the war?

The American people were willing to support excessive employment during the war and even resigned themselves to the great extravagance of which there was so much evidence—because they were told extravagance is unavoidable in war, and they were willing to do anything to win the war.

But the people were also told that as soon as the war was over, excessive and extravagant Federal civilian employment would end, and they supposed that promise was made in good faith.

Instead, after nearly a full year of peace, it is taking MORE PEOPLE and costing MORE MONEY to operate the civilian agencies of the Federal government than at any time during the war—and in fact more than at any time in the history of the United States.

THE COMMITTEE of Congress headed by Senator Byrd has recognized this as a DANGEROUS situation, and has repeatedly warned Congress and the country of the danger, but without success.

"This trend is serious," Senator Byrd has now once more reported to his colleagues, "and I shall CONTINUE to call the public's attention to it until I am satisfied that an effort is being made by responsible officials to stem the tide."

The utter lack of action by the responsible officials of the Federal government is, of course, the APPALLING FACTOR in the situation, and the explanation of the present and increasing HIGH COST OF BUREAUCRACY.

The NON-ESSENTIAL expenditures of the Federal government were inexcusable in the war, and it was a grievous mistake of the American people to regard them otherwise.

They made the war cost more than was necessary, and many generations of Americans have thus been obligated to pay the burdensome cost of our mistake as well as the unavoidable cost of the war.

But to continue the mistake in time of peace is not only inexcusable but CRIMINAL, and the American people should PREVENT THIS CRIME AGAINST THEMSELVES AND THEIR CHILDREN.

LUCIUS BEEBE has given up his membership in the Midtown Manhattan Bow Tie Wearers' Club. He expresses himself as "shocked" because Sherman Billingsley, president of the M. M. B. T. W. C., advocates the wearing of the ready-made bow tie. Says Mr. Beebe: "It is deplorable, depressing, disgraceful and disgusting that a man in Billingsley's position should be so lacking in a sense of the artifice as to wear a machine-made bow tie. I would place a man who derives no thrill of satisfaction from the lying of a perfect bow in the same class as one who has no appreciation of the beauty of a yellow primrose by the river's brim."

Sherman Billingsley

THE NUMBER of unescorted feminine drinkers at cocktail bars continues to greatly increase in all sections of the country. Indications are that the total of female bar-flys has tripled in the past four years. High on the list of viewers with alarm of this situation is Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, of the W. C. T. U., who says: "Thirty years ago bars were patronized mostly by men. Now we have mothers, boys and girls and even grandmothers drinking hard liquor at the bars with men. We even have lovely young ladies drinking the most vicious of all alcoholic drinks—an imported horror named vodka—out of tea cups."

CLIMATE—Says U. S. Air Force Veteran Dan Healy: "I have lived in Florida, California and Arizona but I still insist South Central Texas, that section around San Antonio, has the best winter weather to be had in this country."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Don't you know there were no high-speed saucer shaped bicycle tracks when Jimmy Michaels was riding? A—You may have me on that, mister. Then again, you may not. I believe Michaels rode at Ambrose Park, South Brooklyn, which was a high-speed saucer shaped track. Q—What's this about girls named Mary making good housewives but poor secretaries? A—It is a nonsensical claim. One of the best secretaries I ever had was a girl named Mary. Given names have no value in character analysis. However, when a girl whose parents named her Mary changes it to Sandra, Toni or some similar supposedly glamorous name it is an indication of a certain trait in character.

PASSING BY—Elaine Malbin, Lyric soprano from Brooklyn, Elaine, only 16 years old, has been hailed by some music critics as another Adella Patti. That certainly is rating the little lady quite high. Patti was before my time. But I know she received $5000 per performance and always demanded that amount in cash before she would sing a note. And she had no income tax to pay. Also, that was in the days when a dollar would buy at least four times as much as at present.

BOBBY SOXERS—A New Yorker says the bobby soxers seem to think they have something new in wearing denim dungarees. She claims she wore them 16 years ago, in 1920, when she was 16. Says she also wore bobby sox. And concludes: "Not only that, but 16 years ago in 1920, when I was sweet 16 my favorite crooner was Bing Crosby. And yet they say time marches on."

PROLIFIC PAPA—Boxers rarely have large families. However, that is not true in the case of Tommy Gibbons, who proved himself one of the most prolific papas in the world of sports. He is the father of 11 children. Following the death of his first wife Tommy married a widow with three children.

ASIDES—The first name of BJ Kiddie, the firebrand of the advertising world, is pronounced "Be-Ja." I learned this from a fellow who had an aunt named L.J. Her name is pronounced "El-Ya" . . . A Bostonian says the title of that song hit of the year is not "Rings On My Fingers, Bells On My Toes" but "Rings On Your Fingers, Bells On Your Toes." And he's right.

OVER THERE—In the matter of amounts wagered, the British horse players top the world. Recently an Englishman placed the equivalent of $100,000 on a horse he fancied at odds of 5-to-1. He won the bet, thus achieving a profit of $500,000. The interesting angle is that he paid no income tax on this. No income tax is collected on horse race winnings in Great Britain. If a man won $500,000 on a race in the United States he would have to give up over $400,000 of it to the government.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

ONE CONVENIENCE that Joseph Stalin and I enjoy together, although I wouldn't have you think we chum around to any extent, is that we make up our foreign policy from day to day. You may recall that he found himself so nicely at ease with Mussolini for a long time that he had a commercial treaty with the bum of bums and agreed so well with Hitlerism, which at the time had left no doubt of its savagery toward the Jews of Germany, that they threw in together to start the big war and whack up Poland and the Baltic countries.

Just so there was a time when I had a pretty harsh opinion of General Franco, of Spain, based on his great unkindness to his enemies in the Civil War, but now I take view that, that war being over long ago, and considering the advantages to be derived, we ought to help him hold Spain steady until they can run their election and ease her out of the dictatorship into some less coercive kind of government.

MY IDEA here is that if Franco were kicked out by violence the people of Spain would be irresistibly sicked onto one another, and against the will of most a repetition of the awful war they fought among themselves as the curtain raiser to the main event.

Nobody can convince me that the majority of the Spanish people find this prospect any more appetizing than we Americans would, because that means indiscriminate killing and selective personal knitting and sniping in settlement of old grudges, followed by organized slaughter, and at the end, dictatorship still, whoever wins.

If the Communists should win, Stalin would pick the dictator, and if Franco's side should make it two in a row, which would be unlikely, the Spaniards would be sure to get more of the same from him or his heir. I figure, however, that Stalin's side would take this one and, on past and current performance, such as those of the Red Quisling in Poland, the Franco team and most of those who should be unfortunate enough to take his side, whether by force of circumstances or bad guessing, and who should live through the new civil war, would be enslaved and otherwise abused for the next 20 years or so. Moreover, that would be a tremendous moral and political victory for the Communist movement in Latin America, which would be very bad news for the United States, because it would give Stalin a whole group of new branch stores in our half of the world.

THE SPANISH PEOPLE have an ancient grievance against us Americans, anyway, along of the Spanish American War, and it would be silly to think they love or admire us for letting the Communists recruit their Lincoln brigades in our country for service on Stalin's side against Hitler and the Butler. Even the Communist movement owe us no respect for that because, in principle, we were no more decent or courageous about that assistance to the Reds than the Axis was in its "non participation" on the side of Franco. In fact we were less so because, after all, those Italians and Germans on Franco's side came here to go where without official permission of their respective dictators and the world, thus, knew that Hitler and Mussolini were committed. We made no commitment but connived at a military recruitment and organization in a war that was no more our affair than our Civil War was Britain's party.

As matters stand in Spain now, Franco's government is just as legitimate as that of Stalin in Russia or our own in this country, both of which came into existence as the result of armed revolution.

Thus, to interfere, actively or on the sneak, would be to invite the same sort of intrusion in our own country by Stalin's agents via Latin America, and to justify all his intrusion in our politics and breach of our peace which he formally promised to cease and desist from in return for our recognition and which continues, nevertheless, today in the strikes in the telegraph, automobile and maritime industries.

THE COMMUNISTS in the United States are circulating a strong propaganda, in the name of the Protestant divisions of the Christian religion, against the religious closed shop in Spain. I don't believe in any closed shop, but I doubt with equal conviction that any number of Americans think we ought to promote a civil war and the slaughter of, say, half a million Spaniards, to establish the open shop in a country which, to the extent that it is religious at all, is not and never was Protestant.

And then, too, an absolutely anti-Communist nation on this end of the European continent is a good beach head from which Western civilization may eventually sweep or seep back to a strong line, the further east the better, against the thing. As to Spain, my foreign policy today is that there is a cheap and almost effortless way to make a friend and that if we don't do that we will make a mighty enemy after Stalin moves in.

Boston After Dark

HOLLYWOOD, June 4—Mark Hellinger, always good for a bright idea, said to me: "Where are those swell romantic films that used to make the fans goggle-eyed over their love scenes? I mean, Alma Banky and Ronald Olman, Valentino and Alice Terry, Norma Talridge and Gene O'Brien? It's time the love-team is revived on the screen."

AND MARK is the boy who is going to do it with his two new stars, Ann Blyth and Earl Lancaster. Both have appeared in separate movies. Hellinger, producer in "The Killers" and "Ann" starts today in "Swell Guy."

Now they are teamed at "Swell Guy," a universal in "Criss-Cross," an emotional drama with heavy content on the love story. If goes as Mark expects, he wants to make three or four with Ann and Earl. This Blyth girl is real star stuff—big, tempestuous and definitely a screen personality. If we saw her as Mildred "Criss-Cross" daughter, you know that I mean, Anthony Veiller, who scripted "The Killers," is doing the adaptation on "Criss-Cross."

THE REASON Laraine Day wanted out of her M-G-M contract is because she felt she isn't getting good stories. Well, she's getting one now in the remake of "Alice Adams." RKO—and this should be Laraine's real test as a stellar personality. One of the best pictures Katharine Hepburn made was this Booth Tarkington story in which she gave us unforgettable performances. I had to pick my personal five screen moments, one would be the scene in which the snobby Alice invites her rich beau to dinner with her middle class American family and everything goes wrong.

THE BOWERY BOYS, originally known as the Dead End Kids, got rugged and western for the first time in their next "Brooklyn Buckeroos." Jan Grippo, the producer, who has just had his option picked up to make four more of the series, came up with the bright idea of taking the city kids to the Far West to build up a defunct dude ranch. It's all for laughs and stars the usual gang—Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall, Bobbie Jordan and the rest of the Bowery Boys.

ALTHOUGH THE new Hecht-MacArthur show, "Swan Song" received swan notices in New York. Jackie Homer, 12-year-old girl in the key role was lauded to the skies. Everyone seems to have forgotten that Jackie was considered washed up at a very tender age. Several years ago, she was under contract to M-G-M. No soap. Then her heart broke when they took her out of the kid role in "Panama Hattie." The Hecht-MacArthur team saw her in a "medium" play in New York and thought she was so terrific they wrote "Swan Song" for her.

HENRY WILCOXON, who started with De Mille 11 years ago, is back with him for "Unconquered"—his first since leaving the Coast Guard. Wilcoxon was discharged two months ago after four-and-a-half years as a gunnery officer aboard a destroyer escort in the Pacific. Although he's British born, he's very proud of his American citizenship. When the war broke out he was one of the first called and had to be granted time to finish his role in "Mrs. Miniver."

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Luise Rainer, her husband, Robert Knittel, and their third infant daughter, Franceska, go to England the end of July.

Rainer, two time Academy Award winner (a lot of good it did her in Hollywood) makes a movie over there for Rank. The Pat O'Briens, the happiest couple in town, welcomed a six-pound girl, Kathleen Bridget, at 2:30 Monday morning. Eloise is doing fine; Helen Gahagan's illness is diagnosed as New York's Presbyterians. Hospital as complete exhaustion—too much work and overwork; while in New York, Steve Crane made arrangements to open a branch of his Hollywood restaurant; Betty Grable and Harry James, hilarious winners at the Beverly Hills Club after their rag romped home first at Hollywood Park; Gabriel Pascal, due in New York Thursday for a month's stay, will make a flying trip to Hollywood; the six pounds Vivien Leigh has gained over here mean more to her than diamond bracelets and certainly more than Hollywood movie offers.

Luise Rainer

WILL the woman who wrote that she had organized the American branch of the James Mason Fan Club please write again with her name and address. I'm going netz with candidates who want to join. A sidelight on your boy is that when he comes over here he wants to bring his 13 Persian cats and the cats may not be allowed. It may develop into—No Cats—No Mason; Eddie Heywood and his band open at the Trocadero June 10 at plenty more dough than when he appeared at the Hollywood Bandbox. Two movies jumped him—"Da Coste" and "Junk Prom"; Judy Holliday, the hit of "Born Yesterday," doesn't want to come to Hollywood. She wants another stage show behind her to make sure of landing in Movietown with full star status.

THEY CALL ME CRAZY, do they? he demanded while chuckling at one of his own jokes. (The joke was on Phil Regan whom Max pretended to confuse with a female impersonator. . . . In view of the fact that Regan is all man and can handle himself in street fighting about as well as the former champ himself, the joke was strictly a private one). "Yah, I'm crazy. I'm punchy. Alls I do is sock twenty-five hundred away ever week. . . . And y' can ask Dempsey. He and Anell Hoffman took me to the Equitable Trust Co. in 1934 and put away $24,000 to my account. Don't ask Dempsey. Ask Mister—er—the vice-president of the Equitable. He'll tell you. . . . Y'know Dempsey is looking great. . . . Funny, I'm godfather of his kid, Barbara, and the cult me Uncle Max. Jack is godfather of my oldest kid and my kid calls him Uncle Jack. . . . When I was a punk fightin' for coffee an' in Sacramento in 1927 and he was Jack Dempsey—who would ever believe that anything like that would ever happen? . . . Life is wonderful."

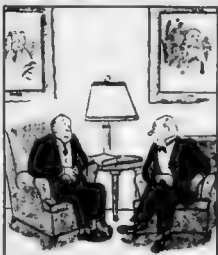

THE UNINHIBITED MAX BAER told this reporter that Jack Dempsey, his "dear pal," has owned 10 per cent of him (Max) since 1927. . . . We were so surprised at the statement that we asked Maxie to repeat it, which he did. . . . Of course, it may be old stuff to the sports writers. . . . Yet in following the career of the huge Mr. Baer through the years, we do not recollect ever seeing the story in print.

MAXIE WAS IDLING away an hour or two at the Music Box as the dinner guest of either Dan Carroll, the Boston light manager, or Phil Regan the singer. . . . Ordinarily, he eats at the Mayfair where he and Maxie Rosenbloom, former light heavyweight champion, are doing a blistering job of entertaining customers, in the guise of comedians. . . . If he roams around at the Mayfair as he did at the Music Box, the Baer man would make a wonderful host or greeter for a night club even if he weren't an alleged comedian. . . . Maxie talks to everyone. . . . He roams his speeches as if aware that he was working without a microphone. . . . But he makes a lot of sense while unburdening his mind to stray listeners.

"THEY CALL ME CRAZY, do they?" he demanded while chuckling at one of his own jokes. (The joke was on Phil Regan whom Max pretended to confuse with a female impersonator. . . . In view of the fact that Regan is all man and can handle himself in street fighting about as well as the former champ himself, the joke was strictly a private one). "Yah, I'm crazy. I'm punchy. When I was a punk fightin' for coffee an' in Sacramento in 1927 and he was Jack Dempsey—who would ever believe that anything like that would ever happen? . . . Life is wonderful."

MAX IS PROUD of his kid brother, Buddy. . . . Boston saw Buddy in one or two fights after big brother Max had lost his title to Jim Braddock. . . . Buddy owns 50 per cent of a tavern in Sacramento, Max made known. . . . He took down more than twenty-five thousand as his end last year," the elder Baer declared.

ALTHOUGH MAX has a shrewd eye for a dollar, the big fellow has a heart that can never be compared for size with the proverbial caraway seed. . . . We sounded him out on the tragic fight in San Francisco in 1930 in which he threw a punch which resulted in the death of a promising young heavyweight named Frankie Campbell. . . .

Copyright, 1936, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
"Her thoughts are always tender—legal tender!"

Campbell's real name was Cammell, and his brother Dolph was to become a great first baseman—a slugging hitter and one of the best fielding first basemen in modern baseball. . . . Baer did not shy away from the subject.

"I FEEL TERRIBLE about Frankie Campbell," he said. "I think of it often, and about Frankie Schaff, too. I'd note: Frankie (of Boston) died after receiving a light punch in a bout following his fight with Baer. Doctors testified that it was probable that Schaff's death was due to injuries sustained in the Baer bout. . . . I'm not looking for any mention for what I did, but I couldn't sleep unless I did something for Frankie's wife and the kid. . . . I boxed an exhibition and the money all went to them. I put in another five grand to make it ten. I felt a little better after that. . . . I'm awfully sorry it ever happened. . . . Baer is as likeable a character, or personality, as one could meet. . . . He loves acting professionally. . . . I'm all set when I get back to the Coast," he said. "I'm going to work for RKO—big brute parts, like Victor McLaglen. Y' know, his kinda stuff? . . . Well, that's what I'm set to do."

NEW YORK, June 4: Sonja Henie's unpublicized dream boy is a former lieutenant-colonel now taking a fling at show business. . . . Ethel Barrymore's daughter, Ethel Barrymore Colt, is expecting a baby soon in Rio de Janeiro. Mrs. R. A. Middleton is heading for Ethel Colt's Reno to shed Ethel Barrymore's handsome vis-a-vis in "Get Your Gun." Georgie Hale, in from the West Coast with words of backing, is reading scripts furiously. . . . He wants to do a big Broadway musical. Archie Mayo, the Marx brothers' director, is bedded at the Madison. Stomach trouble. Comedienne Paula Lawrence and critic Bill Hawkins are a duet. Restaurateur Reuben plans to open a new $2,000,000 eating place.

IRONICAL INCIDENT at a chic Fifth avenue hotel the other day: Three wealthy French refugees stormed out of the dining room because no bread was being served there that day. . . . Olivia de Havilland, on her recent visit here, had "several long talks" with Msgr. Fulton Sheen, who instructed Clare Boothe Luce in Catholicism. Intimates say the conferences "may lead to instructions" later. . . . In the fourth coming magazine biography of Fannie Brice, the comedienne emphasizes that she and Billy Rose, her ex-spouse, are still on the best of terms. Bandman George Paxton and music bigwig Jack Rohns are still on their difficulties in court. Rohns backed the Paxton band for $60,000, but Paxton is suing him.

FREDERICK WAKEMAN, author of the talked-about novel, "The Hucksters," is ailing. A collapsed lung, suffered while he was in service. The father of Ronnie Gelsboin, a titular model victim in the famous murder case of a few years back, is currently running an upholstery shop.

WASHINGTON, June 4: The ghastly spectre of indecision seems to be talking through the War Assets Administration, which handles surplus property. . . . Maybe it's only a surplus spectre and can ultimately be disposed of to some bidder but in the meantime it is causing complications, as witness these two days which were issued a couple of days apart last week: Staff Notice No. 9—Announcement is made of the following appointment: Colonel Harold G. Miller as regional director, Chicago. (Signed) John F. Moore, Director of Personnel.

Staff Notice No. 10 (reversing) Staff Notice No. 9 was issued in error and is hereby rescinded. (Signed) John F. Moore, Director of Personnel.

Anybody want to buy a surplus regional director, slightly used, with only a couple of reversions in his tenders?

FOR THE LAST WEEK or so, I have been larding up my mind with the darnedest array of information. In consequence I am prepared to drive any group of people by suddenly holding forth on obscure subjects, such as where did "bloomers" originate?

I have been getting all this stuff from a fascinating work titled appropriately "A Book About A Thousand Things," compiled by George Stimpson. It applies the answers to a lot of new things I have always vaguely wanted to know but never had the energy to run down. Put in question and answer form, here are some of the nitfies:

WHY ARE BANANAS PICKED GREEN?

All bananas, even those eaten locally in the Tropics, are picked green. They are not fit to eat if permitted to ripen on the plants. People naturally presume that bunches of bananas are cut from the plants green to preserve the fruit during shipment and storage. . . . If allowed to turn yellow on the plant bananas lose their flavor, the skin breaks open, bacteria and insects enter the inside, the fruit rots rather than ripen and becomes so unpalatable that it is worthless for human consumption.

WHY IS A RUFFIAN OR CUTTHROAT CALLED A THUG?

Thug is derived from the name of a caste of professional murderers and robbers who terrorized India for 700 years. The thugs worshipped Kali Ma, Hindu goddess of destruction, and with them assassination for gain was regarded as a religious duty. Part of the plunder was sacrificed to Kali.

WHAT DOES "SABOTAGE" MEAN?

Sabotage is the secret and systematic interference with the normal processes of industry by employees to reduce production. Sabotage is also resorted to by foreign agents within a country to cripple its war efficiency. A sabot is a wooden shoe worn by many French, Flemish and Dutch peasants. Sabotage acquired its present meaning from the fact that in the early days of the introduction of industrial machinery in France workmen who wanted to rest or desired to spite the employer would kick their sabots or wooden shoes into the machines and pretend it was an accident.

By George Dixon

HOW DID "RED TAPE" ORIGINATE?

Red tape in the sense of official inaction or delay originated in England about the nineteenth century and arose from the custom of tying official and legal documents in a tape of a pinkish red color.

WHAT IS A MORON?

Moron is derived from Greek "Moros" (stupid or foolish). The same root occurs as the second element in sophomore, literally "wise-fool," which is applied to a second-year college student.

Editor's note: Hiya, Charlie MacArthur, you old sophomoric you!

HOW DID BLOOMERS GET THEIR NAME?

Bloomers received their name from Mrs. Amelia Jenks Bloomer, of Seneca Falls, N. Y. In 1849 she founded The Lily, a periodical devoted to temperance and women's rights. The February issue of 1851 contained a description of a "sanitary attire" for women designed and worn by Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Miller, daughter of Representative Gerrit Smith, of New York.

Mr. Stimpson has also written another valuable work, "A Book About the Bible," a fact which may strike many as peculiar inasmuch as he is an active member of the National Press Club. The other day, Mr. Henry Flynn, another active member, went up to Mr. Stimpson at the bar and said accusingly:

"What are you trying to do—give this club a good name?"

Cereal Meat Loaf Popular for Summer

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

CEREAL MEAT LOAF is especially popular during the summer because it can be served in so many different ways—hot for dinners or porch suppers, or sliced thin and served cold for picnics or in sandwiches. For dinner, flank the meat loaf with small bunches of fresh asparagus or green beans which have been seasoned with slivers of toasted almonds. In a lemon butter sauce. To make the sauce, melt $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter for margarine, and add $1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons lemon juice. This makes about 1-3 cup of sauce.

Cereals combined with meat—or cheese, eggs, fish or milk—give the proteins you need to do the good work of building and repairing the body. For this reason, too, cereal served with sweetened milk is important in a good breakfast. A basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal with milk, bread and butter or margarine has found widespread acceptance with nutritional and medical authorities.

ECONOMY MEAT LOAF

1 lb. ground beef
 $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. ground salt pork
1 cup rolled oats
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped onion
2 tsp. salt 1 tsp. mustard
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper 1 egg
1 cup water or milk

Combine all ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Pack firmly into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 deg. F.) for 1 hour. Slice and serve hot or cold. Makes 8 servings. (1 cup cooked tomatoes may be used in place of water. Catsup or other seasonings may be added.)

The economy meat loaf recipe can be made into delicious hamburgers. Just use $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of liquid instead of the 1 cup listed in the recipe. Shape into 8 flat patties, chill in refrigerator and slowly pan fry in hot fat. Serve between buns.

SAVORY MEAT LOAF

1 lb. ground beef
1 cup uncooked granular wheat cereal
1 egg 1 small onion
2 tsp. salt $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. sage or thyme
2 tsp. prepared mustard
 $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups liquid (tomato juice, mixed vegetable juices drained from cooked or canned vegetables or bouillon cube dissolved in boiling water)

Combine beef, cereal, slightly beaten egg, minced onion and seasonings. Add 1 cup of the liquid. Mix together lightly and pack into greased baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Baste with remaining $\frac{1}{2}$ cup liquid, during cooking. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

FLAKE MEAT LOAF

2 cups bran flakes, corn flakes, or wheat flakes
1 egg
 $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. ground beef
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped onion
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. chopped parsley
2 tsp. chopped green pepper
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped celery

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

Though first names are the accepted thing in the office, newcomers should not be too quick to accept the practice. A woman is "Miss Jones" not "Jonesy."

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

PATA-A-CAKE, pat-a-cake, . . . and even though the baker's man had nothing to do with concocting this cosmetic confection . . . it is still something to sing about! And sing you will when you glimpse your prettied-up reflection in the mirror . . . prettied up with a modern version of cake makeup . . . an entirely new preparation just out of the chemist's test tubes.

Several months ago we were privileged to preview this heavenly-light cream foundation . . . and we were completely sold on its potentiality in preserving facial appeal and dressing up the complexion with a natural softness that glowed like a warm summer's day. For it smoothed on easily and quickly over the face and throat to mantle the skin in a lovely color . . . as natural as blush.

We took the sample and sampled it profusely. And now that it is ready for market . . . we're clapping hands for the cosmetic "baker's man" and his pat-a-cake tint creation . . . charmed to give it a deserved send-off. This modern version of cake makeup does not need water or a sponge for application. You pat it on . . . then blend it from the nose to the hairline with the fingertips . . . and presto, the complexion is an eye-catching per of it whipped-cream smoothness and luxury. It stays fresh the day long . . . with face powder virtually unnecessary.

Cream though it is . . . there is no amazing recurrence. And it dries amazingly fast for the most mat-like finish we've seen in ever so long. We tried to find out what ingredients it contained . . . because of its startling quality . . . but we can hardly blame the noted cosmetician for refusing an answer. Such a secret is worth keeping.

Suffice it to say . . . it is an entirely new preparation . . . compounded on the most modern and advanced cosmetic principles. Maybe it is colored whipped cream . . . but whatever it is your complexion will literally eat it up for the look that entrances. No fear of dryness in the offing . . . no danger of reappearing oils coming to the surface . . . just confidence that the skin is patied into a flattering tint of even softness. It comes in three shades . . . petal pink for the Dresden china effect . . . cinnamon for the brunette type . . . and rusglow for the Latin from Manhattan allure.

For the name of this brand-new modern version of cake makeup, phone the Beauty Dept., LiBerty 4000, any day except Sunday, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BLONDE OR BRUNETTE—There's an entirely new preparation premised on a new cosmetic principle to mantle the skin in lovely color . . . natural as a blush. It is a modern version of cake makeup . . . a heavenly-light cream foundation that, whisked over the complexion, instantly disappears to mingle with the skin tone to win a coveted glance of facial perfection. It's new . . . it's different . . . it's a pat-tint.

Her Husband Now Admits He Married Without Love

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Approximately two months ago I heard these words from my husband: 'I just can't love you. There is no use living a lie any longer. You see, I didn't love you when I married you. However, I knew you loved me, and my family greatly approved of our marriage.'

It seemed to me at that time that I could learn to care for or even like you, but I finally discovered that neither was possible. The only alternative is for us to go on living together, which I think is necessary since we have a child. Nevertheless, you must look on me as a mere provider, and there will never be anything of an emotional nature between us, as we have previously had.

"Since that day, you can imagine that I have not been 'the happy little wife.' In my mind, I tried to make my heart turn to stone, but my heart refused to co-operate. I still care for him as much as ever, in spite of these words.

"In a way, I admire him for his honesty. Too, I admire him for going ahead and providing for us.

"Perhaps I should continue to act brave and as if nothing had happened. But I'm just not the brave type. My friends (so-called) have seen him with girls in other towns and have innocently reported the fact, which does not help. It has finally come to the point where I feel I must leave him, even though it will be difficult for both the baby and me.

"OR 'THE BRINK' Look, lady, what can you possibly see to 'admire' in a man who tells you he married you and has made love to you under false pretenses? And who follows this up by announcing that you may continue to live in his house and eat at his table—while he's out chasing cuties—but that you mustn't expect so much as a kind word from him ever again. No doubt he's big-hearted enough to let you clean the house, make his bed, get his meals, wash the dishes, do the laundry, pick up after him generally and take care of the child, too.

The first thing you need to do is to look at this man with your eyes wide open and see him for the cad he is. And the next thing is for you to say: "So you've decided I'm to go on living with you on your own terms, have you? Well, Mister, I've decided otherwise, so I'll say 'Good-bye, now. And I won't be seeing you unless you have a very radical change of heart!'"

What if you do have to earn your living and the baby's too? Other women have done it, so can you. And even though it was difficult, wouldn't it be a better life than the one your husband has laid out for you, which seems to be to act as a doormat for him to wipe his feet on whenever he feels like coming home at all?

TIP TO A HOSTESS
Don't attempt to introduce an arriving guest to a large group of guests. That's awkward. It's best to introduce the newcomer to a few guests at a time, perhaps starting with the group standing near you.

Summer Love Match

By BETTINA BEDWELL

AN ENSEMBLE idea that good designers are showing, to wear this summer, is the printed silk dress and the simple wool jacket. You buy them separately if you like, and you can wear them together, because they are made with an intention to make a match that is a love match.

Czettel, whose custom-made collection is very much liked by 24-carat women, goes in for the silk dress and wool jacket outfit, and one of his models of this kind is sketched. Here a very simple dress of pink and white and black printed silk pairs with a black wool jacket lined to match the dress. For extra elegance Czettel puts black paillettes on the tiny dress collar and cuffs, and a few inside the jacket.

Smart Set Sally Cole Picks Date

By BETTY ALDEN

SALLY COLE, post deb daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Cole of Wenham, and Herbert Sears Tuckerman, son of Bayard Tuckerman, well known Boston sportsman, have chosen June 15 as the date of their wedding in Wenham.

Sally's three sisters, Eleanor, Harriet and Mrs. Thomas B. Gannett of Wayland, will be in the bridal party together with Herbert's sister Mrs. George Cutler, and Mrs. Peter Black (Carol Warren) of Charles River Sq. The large corps of ushers will include Lt. Benjamin E. Cole, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., Thomas B. Gannett, George Cutler, Peter Black, Benjamin Bradlee, Robert Potter, Richard Cutler, Philip Cutler, Benjamin Gardner, Richard Harle and Harry Fowler.

On the eve of the wedding there will be a dinner dance for the bridal party given by Mr. and Mrs. Gannett and Mr. and Mrs. George Cutler at the Gannetts' home in Wayland.

ON JUNE 15, a few days before her father leaves for the A-bomb tests in the Pacific, Jean Corrin Compton, daughter of M. I. T. president Karl T. Compton, one of the prominent bomb scientists, will become the bride of Carroll Wilson Boyce of Larchmont, N. Y.

They will have a garden wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Compton, Memorial Drive, Cambridge. Rev. Carl Heath Kopf of Boston and Rev. Floyd McGuire of Larchmont, will officiate. The bride's attendants will be her sister, Mrs. Bissell Alderman of Stamford, Ct.; Ethel Lawrence, Englewood, N. J.; Margaret Williams, Cambridge; Katherine Muller, Arlington; Dorris Lovett, Nisack, N. Y., and Elizabeth Cleveland, Camp Hill, Pa.

NO GI BRIDE is more eagerly awaited than Mrs. Robert D.

Brewer, Jr., due next Monday from Rome to join Lt. Brewer and his family, the Robert D. Brewers of Irlingham. She is the former Duchess Fiorella Aquaviva d'Aragona daughter of Duke and Duchess d'Aragona of Rome and Milan. This is her first visit to her adopted country.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer are planning a garden party June 17 in honor of their son and daughter-in-law who were married last November in Rome.

THE ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION is giving a tea tomorrow afternoon at the Gardner Museum in honor of Lord Huntingfield, former Governor of the State of Victoria and former Acting Governor General of Australia. The distinguished British visitor is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Forbes of Beacon st.

Guests attending the tea will include Miss Ellen Bullard, Mrs. George Lewis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Mills, Mr. James Lawrence, Jr., newly elected president of the Union, Mrs. Horace Binney, Mrs. Augustus Hemenway and many others. Lord Huntingfield will speak informally at 4 o'clock.

WIVES OF HARVARD CLASS of 1921, which is having its 25th reunion this week, will get together for dinner tomorrow evening at the Hotel Somerset. Mr. Philip Hofer of Cambridge is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Fuller Albright, Brookline, Mrs. George N. Carpenter, Cambridge, Mrs. Gerald Henderson, Wayland, Mrs. Moses I. Levenson, Newton, and Mrs. Thomas C. Wales, Milton. Dinner will be followed by a dance for members and families of the 25-year class.

Uranium Secret Told to Red Spy

MONTREAL, June 4 (AP)—Evidence indicating that the Soviet military attaché in Canada was told last July—the month of the atom bomb test in New Mexico—how much uranium was produced in North American factories was presented yesterday at the conspiracy trial of Fred Rose, Communist member of Canada's Parliament. The trial continued today.

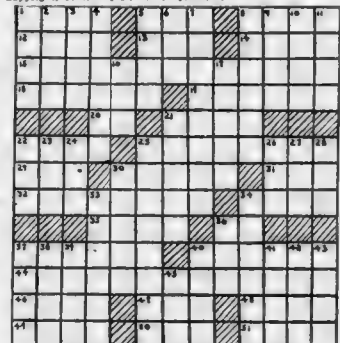

Documents presented by F. Philippe, a special prosecutor, and identified by witness Igor Gouzenko, a former clerk in the Russian embassy at Ottawa, who said he took the documents from the embassy last September, stated:

Information about uranium production was given to Col. Nikolai Zabolot by an agent known as "Alex," identified as Dr. Alan Nunn May, British physicist recently sentenced in London to serve 10 years for disclosing atomic secrets.

Gloria Swanson Comedy Opens At Colonial

By PEGGY DOYLE

Mother Goose has nothing to do with the little theatrical knock-knock which bowed into the Colonial last night preceded by a Cambridge Summer Theater break-in and a tour including Washington, Detroit, Chicago.

It would be Harold J. Kennedy's comedy, "A Goose For the Gander," in which the silent screen's incendiary brunette, Gloria Swanson, is starred as a Gooseie Gander.

There is a great deal of talk . . . some of it rather amusing . . . stemming from a newly glamorized wife's discovery of a little Southern cutie-pie breakfasting with her husband in their special breakfast nook.

The wife, who had been getting beautiful at a famous milk-farm retreat for overweight, under-par woman, hurt to what is known as the quick, proceeds to give her wolf-in-name-only a lesson.

This involves assembling three ardent admirers, a blonde Tarzan, a white-thatched banker and a suave neighbor who has been waiting for just such a fortuitous eventuality, for the week-end. It also involves such light laundry work as running the faucet on the cutie-pie's dress so that she must remain until she's decent.

Of course, from scratch it is made clear that the husband and wife really-and-truly love each other only. And so you know those compromising clinches are nothing of the sort but merely an as-sessment of weight-guessing contexts.

Miss Swanson has lost none of her chic or charm, as her blushing ears must have reassured her, for the lobby-talk glorified the so-called Gloria's appearance unstintingly.

The ex-screen star's acting attainments are another thing and distinctly less enthusiasm-inspiring.

The playright, who heads Miss Swanson's supporting cast, has given himself some of the better lines and he does well by them in a noelwardish fashion.

3 'Gift' Bayonets Land Him in Court

Alfred Correia, 25, of Cambridge st., Cambridge, told Judge Charles J. Brown in East Boston court today the only reason he happened to be wearing two bayonets in his belt and a third stuck in his shoe concealed by his trouser leg, was he appreciated the gift of them.

Arthur Gange, Canterbury st., Back Bay, complained to police Correia had violated his hospitality by stealing the weapons, which Gange had brought home from the war.

Correia, arrested last night at Suffolk Downs while sitting on the running board of a car admiring his armament, drew a suspended sentence of six months.

 Head of the Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School

Q—When should the lawn be cut? When grass is wet or dry?
A—If possible, best to cut the lawn when the grass blades are dry. When wet they are succulent and crush rather than cut. Also, wet grass has a tendency to mat up and cause brown spots on the lawn. If cut dry, the grass will wilt and give little trouble.

Q—Last year we had some lettuce which dropped in the asparagus bed have come up. Will the lettuce be good this year?
A—If it has made an early start, it will pay to fertilize it and get the early lettuce. The quality will be good.

Q—How is best seed produced?

We had some excellent beets last year and would have liked to have saved the seed.

A—Beets are biennials or in other words, take two years to produce seed. In order to grow beet seed it is necessary to select good root specimens in the fall, store in root cellar and plant the following spring. The second year's growth will send up a seed stalk which must be harvested when ripe. This is quite a job for a home gardener and I question the practice. It is better to let the seedman grow your beet seed.

Q—We would like to grow some shell beans, but do not find this listed in the catalogue. Where is the seed purchased?

A—Ask for Horticultural beans which come as pole or bush types. French's Dwarf Horticultural is one of the best.

JVA to Attend 4-H Club Rally

The Junior Victory Army will be represented among the 150 delegates who will attend the state rally of the 4-H Club at Massachusetts State College, Amherst, July 8 to 13 inclusive.

The week's program will range from instruction in home and farm economics to recreational activities. H. M. Jones, state leader, announces the delegates will be chosen from 12 counties in which the 4-H work is carried on.

Members of the college staff and extension specialists will give instruction in agriculture and home economics on four mornings. Remainder of the day will be given over to discussions of health, safety, better farm and home methods, music, recreation, conservation, judging, demonstrations, national contests and 4-H leadership.

Swimming and dancing will highlight the social activities.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to the Junior Victory Army, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped, in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Wednesday's Daily Record.

Girl, Dad and 2 Held After Raid

Three South End men and the daughter of one were held in bail totaling $5000 today for hearing June 14 after pleading not guilty in municipal court to charges ranging from morals to larceny.

Before Judge Jennie Leitman Barron as the result of a raid in Genesee st., which resulted in recovery of dress goods valued at more than $2000, allegedly stolen from Kneeland st. establishments, were:

Albert Sadm, 50, of the Genesee st. address and his daughter, alma, 20; Georg Hages, 47, Perry st., and Frank Katsunas, 59, Lancia st.

Sadm was held in $1000, as was his daughter, he on a morals charge, she for idle and disorderly conduct. Katsunas was held in $2000 on 10 counts of conspiracy to steal, Hages in $1000 on the same counts, as well as larceny, possession of burglar's tools, immoral conduct and attempted bribery of a raider.

They were arrested by Officer William Gill and George Smith.

Jones Sees Ruin in British Loan

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, former commerce secretary, expressed belief today the proposed $3,750,000,000 British loan "carries us along the road toward financial ruin."

"I feel very keenly that the Congress will make an irreparable mistake if it authorizes this loan in its present form," Jones wrote Chairman Spence (D.) of Kentucky of the House Banking Committee, now considering the loan legislation.

Jones contended the U. S. should insist on certain collateral.

He listed these "major objections."

It is unfair to the American people.

It is questionable whether the amount is actually necessary.

The deal is "most unbusiness-like."

It sets a bad precedent.

It continues "to increase our debt when we should be decreasing it."

BYRNES OFF AGAIN JUNE 13

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Sevy. Byrnes said today he expects to leave June 13 for resumption of the foreign ministers conference in Paris on June 15. His party will include Senators Connally (D.) of Texas, and Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan.

Girl Scout Saves Boy, 4, From Death

HOULTON, Me., June 4—The Girl Scout training and courage of Jacqueline Dunlop, 14, high school freshman, was credited today with saving the life of John Desrosier, 4, son of Leo Desrosier.

When the boy fell from a raft into a river, Jacqueline heard screams of his companions and raced to the scene, pulled him from the water and revived him by artificial respiration.

THIS COLUMN ~~MAKES~~ PUBLIC apology! As a one-man shop with no lipstick lady to take dictation, the writer has fallen hopelessly behind in his mail. I plead for patience! Some personal, and some general, like these on the sport side:

Sir—I am a high school sophomore. Our English class is doing a review of outstanding Boston personalities. Who do you consider the most colorful in Boston sports? I mean your favorite . . . Mary C., Boston.

Seats at Flicke's Men's Store and Fenway
Park

After batting only .196 on the recent 12-game road trip of the Sox, Doerr has been going at a .433 clip since the Sox reached home. That's in three games with the Yanks, one with the A's, two with the Nats and two with Chicago, all but one of which the Sox have won.

He's made 13 hits in 30 trips since the Sox opened at home May 25, is above .250 for the first time in weeks and is playing the ball that made him acclaimed the league's outstanding second sacker before he went into the Army.

It isn't that he's tattooing Fenway's left field fence as he did in the yesteryear. He's made only one homer in the eight games. He's just poking timely singles past the third baseman, and occasionally booming a triple off the center field wall.

There is no feeling quite so ulcerous to a .300 hitter as to be down around the .200 mark and able to do little about it. Bobby's stomach was screaming on the road trip, especially that day in St. Louis when he alone left 12 men on base.

"Gee, if I only could start to hit," he'd say, "it would take a load off of some of the other fellows and make it easier for us to win."

Well, Bobby's been doing more than his share since May 25. Recall him scoring from second on an incomplete DP in the first game of the holiday twin bill with Washington. He's been running faster than he did before he served in the infantry. And his spectacular play afield in the second game when he accepted 16 of 17 chances.

He was that way again in the Wash Day twin bill with the White Sox which attracted 27,631 paying cutomers, a record Monday crowd for Boston. He had 12 chances in the first game which Ferris won 6-1, and 8 in the aftermath which Dobson won 5-2. Most of them were hat-raising.

His assists on Dickey and Hodgins in the first game kept the fans cheering for minutes, and he pivoted slickly on two helpful twin killings. His backhand stop and throw on Trosky in the second game was something no Six second baseman since Jack Barry could make.

His return to '44 form lines the Sox pennant path with clover.

Dave Ferriss (9-0) now goes after Tex Hughson's record of 11 straight which the Texan ran from June 30 to August 23 of 1942. If he succeeds in tying that mark then he can go after Hughson's 12-straight record which he registered at the close of the '44 season. All-time Red Sox record for consecutive victories (16) was made by Smoky Joe Wood in

Vernon, Walker

tion" in the National League cooler, regained the batting lead with a .374 average based on games played through Sunday; but he still was running second to the .385 figure compiled by Washington's Mickey Vernon in setting the American League pace, ac-

Walker picked up five points as Whitey Kurowski of St. Louis tumbled 62 points from the top to eighth position at 321.

Red Schoendienst of St. Louis moved into second spot with .346, one point ahead of Johnny Hopp of Boston at .345. Stan Musial of the Red Birds was another point back at .344.

Vernon, in losing 20 points, fell out of the .400 class but clung to a wide 40-degree lead over runner-up Ted Williams of Boston at .345. Dominic DiMaggio of the leading Red Sox moved into third place at .336 followed by teammate Johnny Pesky's .333.

1912 when he won 34 games, lost 5 and spearheaded the Sox to the pennant. That was an A. L. record at the time, since tied by Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove (A's) and Schoolboy Rowe (Tigers) . . . N. L. record is 19, set by Ruben Marquard, Giants "$11,000 Lemon" in 1912.

Ferris had his second straight shutout, and his fifth of the season, in hand until two were out in the ninth. Trosky got his third hit to open that frame. Then Ferris issued his only pass of the game—to Curtright. This advanced Trosky to second. He went to third as Kennedy hit into a twin kill, and came home on Kolloway's third hit. The Sox got only six hits off Lopat and Caldwell but took advantage of them.

Ferriss aided his own cause tremendously by some fancy baserunning in the fifth. With two out and Russell on second, Ferriss walked. McBride singled to short center, and while Russell was scoring Ferriss legged it all the way to third, made it safely with a nice slide. Few pitchers would try such a stunt. In fact Wolff had to retire on the holiday after he had circled the bases. Ferriss promptly scored on a wild pitch, and McBride scored the third run of the frame on Pesky's single. The pitcher like Ferriss is single or two strikes away from retirement because of his fielding, and hitting," said the Tigers' star Paul Richards recently. Yes sir, and his running also helps.

Last year, Ferriss won his first eight games, lost his ninth, and Borowicz of the Yanks, came back to win eight more. He finished his first nine games. This year he has been chased from the box by the Senators, A's and Yankees, yet he has won six of his last seven. His lucky moments, like Mickey Harris and unlike Tex Hughson, The Sox scored 18 runs for Harrison in one game, 14 in another. They haven't scored 13 for Hughson all season. He has pitched the longest record. He'll still pitch the opening game of the World Series, however . . . Incidentally, don't mention pennant to Cronin or you'll get a look from "Wuthering Pines." The Sox are going to win. Watch the Sox skipper when he takes his post in the coaching box at third. He'll pick up Ruess's gloves, touch every base, and discard the glove every inning. He'll pick up the mitt of "Wuthering Pines" and throw it away. Higgins' glove because Russell's failure to slide at home plate in the ninth inning of the nightcap injured his leg and forced him to leave the game in the eighth. He'll leave the glove on the bench and hit a bit, the scoring agent.

freed from a five-day "vacation" in the National League cooler, regained the batting lead with a .374 average based on games played through Sunday, but his still is running second to the .385 figure compiled by Washington's Mickey Vernon in setting the American League pace, according to the Associated Press.

Red Schoendienst of St. Louis moved into second spot with .346, while the Boston Red Sox's Tony C. of Boston at .345. Stan Musial of the Red Birds was another point back at .344.

ST. LOUIS, June 4—Starting tonight here against the Cardinals the Braves will have four successive games under the arc lights. The first three will be played here and the fourth in Cincinnati on Friday night.

Manager Billy Southworth nominated Johnny Sain (5-4) to oppose Cards' Harry Brecheen (3-5). Southworth is still undecided just where he'll play Mike McCormick who was acquired from the Reds on Sunday. It is expected that he will replace Johnny Hopp in center field when southpaw will be pitching because Hopp has been beamed three times this year by sidewheelers.

$1,750,000 Advance Sale For Louis-Conn Battle

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, June 4—The advance sale for the 15-round world's heavyweight championship battle between Joe Louis and Billy Conn at the Yankee Stadium on June 19 has passed the $1,750,000 mark according to a statement made by Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting Club today.

"We may reach a sellout mark of $3,000,000 for the Louis-Conn bout on June 19," Jacobs told this writer, "as we already have $1,750,000 in the bank. The bout is a cinch to surpass the $2,658,660 mark of the second Tunney-Dempsey tussle in Chicago in 1927."

"Most of the $100 seats are already sold. There are some $100 tickets left, but they are well back. In all my experiences as a boxing promoter, I never saw the public so eager to get the better seats."

As this writer talked with Jacobs, Sam Rosoff, the big New York contractor who is known as the "Subway King," dropped in to pick up his tickets for the bout which he ordered some time ago.

"These seats are out in Coney Island," said Sam as he looked at the location of the tickets. "I think, Mike, I'll be your guest and sit with you."

Rosoff showed his tickets which as a matter of fact, called for a location within the first ten rows.

JACOBS SAID there are about 25,000 of the lower priced seats which are still unsold. "These tickets will now begin to move," said Jacobs. "With the bout still more than two weeks away, I do not expect to have many seats left by June 19. Any money that the club receives from now on as a result of the sale of tickets will eventually go to the government in the form of taxes. Uncle Sam will receive a big slice of the club's profit as well as from the purses paid to Joe Louis and Billy Conn."

"Louis will receive more than $1,000,000 in the event of a $3,000,000 gate, while Conn will pull down more than $600,000. When Louis and Conn pay their management, training expenses and taxes, they will each end up with less than $100,000."

"Louis' expenses in connection with the title bout will be close to $600,000 while Conn will have a tab of $500,000. The rival heavyweights have been in training since January, and this is why their expenses are so high."

"I talked with Billy Conn at Greenwood Lake the other day and he told me there are 15 per cent of his party at his training camp. Billy declared each of his four sparring partners received $25 a day and also was paid $10 a day for expenses. Trainers, rubbers and other camp expense have given Conn a big bill."

"Louis also has a large staff of sparring partners and other personnel at his camp."

JACOBS asserted he had full knowledge of the financial affairs of Louis and Conn and he added that neither boxer was "broke."

"There is not any truth to the stories Louis and Conn are broke," asserted Jacobs. "Louis owes the government some money for back taxes, but this matter will soon be adjusted. Joe has considerable money invested in apartment houses in Chicago and in annuities. He has not wished to sell anything, and it has been necessary for him to borrow from me occasionally. These loans will be paid off after the Louis-Conn bout. Louis now does not owe the government a great deal of money in back taxes."

"Conn has saved part of his ring earnings and he is in a sound financial condition. Billy will be able to add a substantial sum of money to his 'nest egg' after his battle with Louis."

Louis and Conn were to be back at the training grind today. Conn is all ready to battle for the title, while Louis is gradually reaching the best of condition. Conn will have to be careful he does not overtrain, but Louis will probably hit the peak of physical condition a day or so before he enters the ring with Conn.

Redskins Sign Coast Halfback

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—The Washington Redskins of the National Football League have signed Eddie Saenz, former star halfback at the University of California.

Saenz, whose home is at Santa Monica, Cal., played with Loyola University at Los Angeles in 1941 and 1942 and with U. S. C. in 1943 when he led the Pacific Conference in ground gained with an average of 8.6 yards a try, the announcement said. He starred with Great Lakes in 1941.

He was signed for three years.

Sullivan Rallies To Beat Nelson

Tommy Sullivan, 170½, South Boston, had to come from behind to gain a unanimous decision over Jimmy Nelson, 172, of Cleveland, in the Callahan A. C.'s 10-round feature bout at Mechanics Building last night.

Nelson was giving Sullivan a thorough boxing lesson but in the ninth and 10th Sullivan threw all defensive measures out the window and clouted Nelson all over the ring. The Cleveland was hanging on at the bell.

Jackie Webber, 135, Pawtucket, R. I., gained a six-round technical knockout over Oscar St. Pierre, 142, Fall River, in the scheduled eight-round semi-final. In the sixes, Red Perkins, 140, Lynn, defended Pvt. Jackie Ritchie, 145, U. S. M. C., and Johnny Martin, 188, Rockport, gained a four-round TKO over Al. Carpenter, 185, Fall River.

Sgt. Curtis Lee, 168, U. S. A., knocked out Johnny Lawler, 175, Boston, in their fourth and last round and, in the other "four," Tony Arujo, 141, Providence, R. I., gained a four-round TKO verdict over Bobby Stoddard, 139, Boston.

Sign Ray, Comiskey For Braves Field Go

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, June 4—Elmer (Violent) Ray, sensational colored heavyweight who has won his last 40 bouts, scoring kayos in 37 of them, has signed to battle Pat Comiskey of New Jersey in a ten-round bout at the first open air show of the Callahan A. C. at Braves Field, Boston, on Monday evening, June 24. This major heavyweight contest will be staged five days after Joe Louis and Billy Conn settle the question of ring supremacy at the Yankee Stadium.

Ray and Comiskey each have guaranteed purses of $3000 and will receive liberal percentage privileges.

Matchmaker Sam Silverman of the Callahan A. C. has been negotiating for the Ray-Comiskey bout since the day following Comiskey's nine round knockout of Bill Weinberg of Chelsea. Silverman felt that other than a return bout between Bruce Woodcock and Tami Mauriello, a Ray-Comiskey bout was the biggest non-title heavy eight match that could be offered.

Ray has proved a ring sensation. He is a fast, clever boxer, but it is his terrific punching power that has skyrocketed him out front in the fistic parade. Ray has engaged in four bouts in Boston and he won each of them by his mighty hitting ability.

When Louis signed to meet Conn, he frankly stated he would not meet a heavyweight who had been active. Last week at his training camp at Pompton Lake, the champion told this writer he agreed to battle Conn as the latter, like himself, had been out of boxing for five years.

"I would not care to meet a heavyweight at this time who has been active in the ring," said Louis. "His timing would be better than mine, while he would be razor sharp as a result of frequent competition. After I get through with Conn and prove I am a right once more, I'll take on these other challengers."

Priest Aiming For Big Bouts

Al "Red" Priest will be lurid away New York's top fighters. He disposes of bolo puncher Jack Blackwood in a Goodwin A. 4 show at the Garden this coming Friday. The Cambridge red is ready for Jake LaMotta, Rocky Graziano and other big name rivals in the middleweight class.

An outdoor clash between Priest and either Graziano or LaMotta would draw the greatest crowd of boxing enthusiasts ever to assemble in these parts.

Although Graziano can match Red's weight more evenly, Priest would not hesitate to fight tons of fight fame and plans to make Bronx better would outweigh him a matter of seven or eight pounds. Priest is knocking on the door of fight fame and plans to make the most of opportunities.

Boxing Pilots' Guild Asks Minimum Scale

NEW YORK (AP)—A committee representing the Boxing Managers Guild called on Mike Jac yesterday, asking the New York promoter to set a minimum scale for preliminary fighters at Madison Square Garden shows.

2d Place Duel In Park League

Second place in the Park League's Eastern division will be in the balance tonight at Eustis street, when the Glynn and Casey clubs square off in a feature of six two tussles scheduled.

Art Carmen, who can play anywhere but who is most effective in the pitching department, is the selection to hold the Casey slugger, who have accounted for 49 hits in the last four engagements. Bongiorno, Falwell, Horne and Gills have been clouting the ball hard for the Glynn, so visiting hurler Cy Epstein will need all of his stuff to check them.

At Smith Field, Allston, Big Jake Smith will ascend the Artisanal mound to take a turn against the Veterans.

Hogan Increases Round Robin Lead

MAMARONECK, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Shooting his best record of the tournament, a two-under-par 70, Ben Hogan ran his margin in the Goodall round robin golf tournament to 45 points today as he beat Jimmy Hines, 4 up, and Jimmy Demaree, 5 up, to take a commanding lead with only one round left to play.

Even a scrambling five on the 18th of the Winged Foot's west course wasn't too costly for the man who has paced this tourney from the start and is due to break all records for high point score.

He got a half with Demaree, who had 78, though he lost to a par 4 by Hines, who shot 75.

Hines as a result of being 3 up on Demaree went to plus 2 in the point standing.

BCH vs. English For Boston Title

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Boston English High School's hopes of a city championship and it's bid for a berth in the School-Boys Writers' Eastern State championship tourney will ride on the outcome of a "play-off" game tomorrow afternoon at Billings Field, West Roxbury, where the Blue and Blue nine will meet B.C. High.

The winner will represent the intown schools in the title games.

English faltered but once this season, dropping a decision to Brighton in the course of its regular campaigning, but Coach Bernie Kilroy's boys more than made up for this setback in whipping Medford and Groton schools.

Their 15-1 slate is one of the league's best, and most commendable in Greater Boston and a credit to Coach Kilroy, serving his first term as English master mind.

Coach Kilroy has had his troubles this spring. He had to build up his pitching staff; he had to discharge a pair of boys from the squad in "discipline" matters, and it was no joy losing his third baseman with a broken leg (Paul Kelly) in the objective game of the season; again Latin at Braves Field. It's been a great bit of work—win, lose or draw in this showdown against the Eagles.

English was fortunate in having Mario DiGiorgio to handle the pitcher. He's been great in handling Win Briggs, the choice to take over the mound tomorrow, Phil Cohen and Roman Briggs, through careful guidance, has caught up six straight victories; Cohen has a 6-1 record with the remainder in favor of Roman.

At the same time, DiGiorgio was batting in the No. 3 spot. He's been powdering the ball for base hits for the greater part of the season so that his bat, working with Al Luciano, Lou Prior, 1b, Bob Farrell, lf, and Mario Del Orlando, 2b, will keep the Eaglet pitchers bearing down. Just for insurance, English will have punching power in Don Burke, 3b, Bill "Buck" Jennings, lf, and John Allen, cf.

B. C. High, closing its season and final tests under Coach Fella Gintoff who'll be moving out of the Hub after this term, has done very well considering the fact that the Eagles played all their games away from home. They've chalked up a 12-1 record, that loss being a 9-8 overtime set to English... Dick Shellenback, regarded by many as one of the speediest schoolboy pitchers, will be the mound choice.

No definite dates have been set for the baseball tourney, awaiting official word from Braves Field... possibly, the play may be underway next Monday, if the Holy Hour altar is removed.

Games Wanted

The Davis Sq. A. A. is desirous of contacting any average semi-pro baseball club for games home or away. Call Phil Brunet at Somerset 1072.

The Cambridge Cardinals wish to schedule games with any fast semi-pro team in the vicinity, home or away. Call Elliot 7717.

Winners of six straight games against top opposition at the Coca-Cola Softball Club are hopeful of securing engagements on a home and home basis with fast outfits. Call or write Bill Grant, Coca-Cola Softball Club, 400 Soldiers Field rd., Allston, Mass. Telephone 2159.

Favorites Advance In W. G. A. Tourney

By BILL GRIMES

There wasn't an upset in the first round of the Women's Golf Association of Massachusetts championship today at the Charles River Country Club.

From the time, Mrs. John Grew, Dedham, reported an 8 and 6 victory over Miss Gertrude Leach, Winthrop, until Mrs. C. F. Bartholomew, Braintree, came from behind and took the last five holes of her match with Mrs. George Adelman, Thorny Lea, to win 2 up, the favorites registered wins without an exception.

Three of the four former title-holders came through without too much difficulty, with Mrs. John Grew setting the pattern, Miss Rosamond Vahey, Oakley, eliminated Mrs. Pat Hanaver, Commonwealth, 6 and 4, and Mrs. Edward H. Baker, Oakley, turned back Mrs. A. E. Wood, Needham, 5 and 3.

For the most part, the matches were one-sided. Mrs. Paul G. Black, Marshfield, was carried to the 19th hole by Mrs. Frederick H. Tarr, Jr., Rockport, Mrs. Christopher Haigh, Winthrop, came from behind to nip Mrs. Eli Brilliant, Belmont, on the home green and Mrs. Donald McCuskey, Worcester, protected a one hole lead by halving the 18th with Mrs. John S. Harty, Jr., Myopia, after losing the 17th.

Mrs. George Norby, medalist of the qualifying round, eliminated Margaret Cassidy, Lexington, 3 and 2 this morning.

Mrs. Christopher Haigh, Winthrop, staged a garrison finish to nip Mrs. Eli Brilliant, Belmont, at the home hole.

Mrs. Paul G. Black, Marshfield, won the first extra hole match at the 19th from Mrs. Frederick H. Tarr, Jr., Rockport.

Plenty of Bass Being Hooked Despite Many 'Poor' Reports

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH
After our usual week-end no-essier, a stretch of calm and warm weather should produce good snapper fishing, for the fish have been striking in numerous spots. Braving the high waves and whistling winds Sunday, Ace Lord and Clyde Hartney put out from Hingham Harbor, and tied into five 9 and 10-pounders, along the shore. These two intrepid anglers were using seaworms, with a June Bug spinner.

As recent rumors had it, Ace took the first strip of the season in Hingham Harbor, last week, boating three. He also visited Cliff Pond, at Brewster, where he hooked two nice rainbows, a salmon, plus six perch, each averaging 2½ pounds. And yet the boys tell us that the fishing is "poor!"

The waters around Vineyard Haven apparently are teeming with striped bass, as well. Despite the gales Saturday, Clayton Hoyle hit a 16-pounder, at Chest Clap on a feather jig. The day before, at South Beach, Harry Clark landed one weighing 10 pounds, with a jig.

Earlier in the week, Lemont Wells, Edgartown, took a 32-pound giant at the Catana Opening. Emulous Elliott snared nine 10-pounders, fishing from South Beach; while Bucky Rhodes took two large stripers at Squibnocket, and "Young" Landers pulled in seven 10-pounders from the Vineyard Haven Bridge, using seaworms.

OUTDOOR O. O.'S: While in Ossipee, N. H., over the week-end, we had the pleasure of meeting Conservation Officer Willard Stockbridge, who is now enjoying his second vacation in 13 years. He was going fishing. This bronzed outdoorsman covers 430 square miles, and 40 ponds, in Carroll County. He told us that Chief Conservation Officer "Hop" Chappin expects to see a vast improvement in the sport as soon as the two new hatcheries are completed.

HIGGINS DOUBLES SOX 2ND

By HUCK FINNEGAN

FENWAY PARK, June 4—The Red Sox presented their fifth third baseman of the season today as they opened a three-game series with the troublesome St. Louis Browns. He was Mike "Pinky" Higgins, who was traded by the Sox to Detroit after the 1937 season, and who returned to the fold two weeks ago.

He replaced Rip Russell, who injured his leg at the plate in yesterday's nightcap with the White Sox. From appearances, Russell will be out of the lineup for at least a week.

Others who have played third base for the Sox this season are Ernie Andrews, now at Buffalo; Eddie Pellagrini and Leon Culberson.

The Sox-Browns series stands at 1-1 in favor of the Sox but in all three games played in Boston last month the Browns were leading at some time during the game. The teams split a two-game series in the west.

Pitchers today were Denny Galehouse (1-4) for the Browns, Randy Hefflin (0-1) for the Sox. Galehouse was a World Series winner in '41 but hasn't hit his normal stride since returning from the Navy. Hefflin was making his first start of the season, and it may be a do-or-die game for him since the Sox are carrying 13 pitchers.

Fans who came early to see Ted Williams arch a few feet into the bleachers in batting practice were disappointed when they didn't see the gangling kid hit. "Something wrong with him?" they asked.

There was not, Williams took an hour's private batting practice with Paul Schreiber pitching this morning, and his hands were so calloused he thought he had enough for one day.

Hefflin made his major league debut against the Browns last summer after a tour of service in the Navy. He had the game almost won, 2-1, in the ninth when Jack Tobin tripped over third base with the final out. Subsequently, he lost the game, 3-2.

Since a right-hander was working for the Browns, Joe Cronin returned left-handed hitting Hal Wagner to the catching berth and Cal Metkovich to right field.

It was drizzling at game time and there were fewer than 10,000 fans in the stands. It was one of the smallest crowds of the Sox season.

FIRST INNING

BROWNS—Dillinger singled, Zarilla singled. Laabs hit into a double play, Pesky to Doerr to York, Berardino walked. Judgment to Metkovich. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—Metkovich singled.

Unclaimed Winnings

Bill Goes to Tobin

The Massachusetts State Senate today enacted and sent to Gov. Tobin a bill under which unclaimed winnings at horse and dog tracks would revert to the State treasury.

Unclaimed winning in the dozen years since racing was legalized have been held by the tracks and have reached a total of several hundred thousand dollars.

LOMBARDI "DAY" AT NIGHT

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—The Section Five Club, Giants' rooters, will honor Ernie Lombardi with a special "day" at the Polo Grounds night game with the Reds, June 18.

That Old Feeling—Rabbit Maranville gets the feel of gloved hand, in his old-time perch atop dugout steps, at Yankee Stadium. Rabbit has been signed by the New York Journal-American to conduct its sandlot baseball competition. The ex-Braves infield immortal is overjoyed at returning to the game.

Urge Case Bill Pass Over Veto

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Sen. Moore (R.) of Oklahoma told the Senate today a "howling campaign" is under way to "bring pressure" on President Truman to veto the Case strike control bill. If Mr. Truman does take such action, Moore said, Congress should override the veto.

"There is nothing in the bill that can possibly be called anti-labor," Moore asserted.

Before he spoke, congressional foes of the measure reported they had almost 100 House signatures to a petition urging a veto.

Reiser to Seek Aid From Dr. Hyland

PITTSBURGH, June 4 (AP)—Pete Reiser, centerfielder for the Dodgers who hasn't been in the lineup since May 29 because of an injury, will visit Dr. Robert Hyland when the club reaches St. Louis on the present trip.

Teen-Age Draft Fought in Senate

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Sen. Stanfill (R.) of Kentucky, fighting to prevent the draft of teen-agers for military service, contended today the armed forces could meet their requirements elsewhere.

There is a million-man reservoir made up of those between 20 and 30 who were deferred during wartime for service on the home front, Stanfill said.

"We do not use boys in our police force at home," he cried on the Senate floor. "Then why should we use them for police work in Germany and Japan?"
